EXPOSE TOWN OF GANGSTERS

NOTE FUND QUIZ TO INCLUDE DRY LEAGUE'S CASH

Fernald, Goff, King Go on Committee.

Washington, D. C., May 20.—(Special.)—The refusal of three of five senators named to sit on the special committee authorized to investigate charges that large sums were spent in Pennsylvania and Illinois primaries for the committee late this afternoon.

Vice President Dawes announced tonight that Senators Fernald (Rep., Wis.), Goff (Rep., W. Va.) and King (Dem., Utah) would sit with Senators La Follette (Rep., Wis.) and Reed (Dem., Mo.), originally named as members of the committee.

Anti-Saloon league expenditures in campaigns will be among the matters it, it was apparent tonight.

Aimed at Pennsylvania Primary.

Valid reasons actuated Senators of Pennsylvania and Deneen of Illinois, Republicans, and Bayard of Delaware, Democrat, who were originally named on the investigating committee, to decline the appointments. Although the resolution adopted yesterday is broad enough to include the investigation of the primary election campaign of any person seeking a senate seat in 1926, it is manifestly aimed principally at the Pennsylvania primary. This gave Senator Reed the opportunity to say that it was not suitable for appointment because he took an active part in the Pennsylvania primary.

On the other hand, because the resolution affects not only Pennsylvania but other states in which Democrats and Republicans will run, neither Senator Bayard, as the treasurer of the Democratic senatorial campaign committee, nor Senator Deneen, as secretary of the Republican senatorial campaign committee, felt in a position to agree.

Map Plans at Once.

The new investigating committee will hold a preliminary session almost immediately to map out sketchy plans, but nothing vital will be done now, as Senator Reed of Missouri, the author of the resolution, is going away for a few days. When he returns a program will be arranged.

Under the resolution outlays in behalf of candidates by the Anti-Saloon league or other dry or wet organizations may be inquired into. Indications are that by the end of the summer Wayne B. Wheeler, general counsel of the league, will face Jim Reed of Missouri.

FISHER LEADING IN PENNSYLVANIA IN LATEST COUNT

Philadelphia, Pa., May 20.—(Special.)—In the results of the Pennsylvania primary shifted today to the Republican contest for governor as John S. Fisher, candidate of the forces led by Secretary of the Treasury Mellon, slipped into the lead over Edward E. Wideman, backed by Congressman William S. Vare.

While Congressman Vare maintained a safe plurality over Senator George Wharton Pepper for the United States senate nomination, his gubernatorial candidate dropped steadily behind as voters in western Pennsylvania and the interior counties reported.

Fisher was 4,473 votes ahead tonight over all but 35 districts of the 8,281 ward from. These were in territory regarded as favorable to Fisher. The vote was: Fisher, 655,005; Wideman, 641,532.

While the Bidenman leaders refused to concede the defeat of their candidate, Fisher expressed little surprise.

One Ward for $5,000,000 in Bakery Merger Profits

New York, May 20.—The independent stockholders committee of the General Baking company, of which William Deinger, former head of the corporation, is chairman today filed suit against William B. Ward to cancel a transaction in which Mr. Ward is alleged to have made a profit of $5,000,000 in the sale of stock "which was nothing." The other defendants are the Chase National bank, the General Baking corporation, and the General Baking corporation.

Big Tim Gets His Policeman, Transfer Hints

"Big Tim" Murphy, recently of cell No. 18,296, Leavenworth, vowed in court that he would get Policeman John J. Mahoney, who arrested his wife for driving past a local traffic light.

That was May 15. Yesterday Mahoney, who has been stationed for years at Madison and Dearborn streets, was sent to Grand avenue and Halsted street as a little lesson in discipline.

Capt. Patrick Hogan, head of the traffic squad, said Mahoney was punished on the serious charge of failing to arrest a taxi driver, reported on May 10. But Mahoney, who has an excellent twelve year record on the force and was cited for war service, tells a different story.

The Policeman's Side.

"The driver passed a signal and did not turn right," he said. "I did not arrest him because Capt. Hogan has instructed us not to arrest a cab driver for a minor infraction, but to report his number, which I did."

"On May 18 Capt. Hogan called for an explanation—wanted to know why I did not make the arrest. He said I was no policeman and never would be, and threatened to have me before the trial board."

"I know why I was transferred. It was because I was unfortunate enough to arrest Mrs. Murphy last Friday. Tim got me, and now the captain would have it appear that the cab driver case is to blame."

Mahoney said that Gen. Milton J. Foreman, commander of the 23d division, Illinois National Guard, would call on Mayor Dever to petition in his behalf this morning. He may insist upon other action later.

Chief of Police Collins is in Benton Harbor, Mich., resting after a slight illness, and could not be reached yesterday. Capt. John Prendergast, his secretary, and Acting Chief Michael Zimmer, however, denied they knew of the transfer. It was entirely in the hands of the traffic division, they said.

According to Capt. Hogan, Mahoney not only failed in his duty in the taxi case, but in reporting it had been somewhat self-conscious.

Will Get Old Post Back.

"He is a noisy, arrogant fellow, who has a tendency to talk too much," the captain declared. "Why, even when the Murphy case was tried he told Judge Helander if he doubted his testimony to 'give the lady the benefit of the doubt.' I wanted to see her fined, but after that the judge dismissed the case."

Capt. Hogan said that rumors of a connection of Mahoney's transfer with "Big Tim's" threat were absurd and unfounded. He added that he would probably return Mahoney to his old post in a few days, after he has been disciplined.

PAROLED ROBBER HUNTED; CHARGE HE SHOT AT WIFE

Stanley Warnowski, robber and burglar who was twice paroled from Pontiac reformatory, was being sought by the police last night on complaint of his estranged wife, Mrs. Katherine Warnowski, 4642 Bishop street, who alleged that he fired at her on the street near her home and then fled.

Warnowski's long criminal record began in 1913 when he was indicted on two charges of burglary. The cases were stricken off. Later in the same year a rape charge was also stricken off. In 1915 he went to Pontiac for burglary, and was paroled in May, 1917.

In December, 1917, he was arrested after he had robbed a messenger for the Southwest State bank at 49th street and Racine avenue, escaping with several thousand dollars. On April 29, 1918, he was again sentenced to Pontiac, where he remained until he was paroled on Jan. 30, 1925.

Snow in Saskatchewan and Manitoba Stabs Spring

Winnipeg, Man., May 20.—(Special.)—Snow fell for two hours this afternoon in Saskatchewan and the western part of Manitoba. It was cool and raining in Winnipeg all day, with short snow flurries. The moisture will benefit grain crops if it does not turn freezing cold.

"I know why I was transferred. It was because I was unfortunate enough to arrest Mrs. Murphy last Friday. Tim got me, and now the captain would have it appear that the cab driver case is to blame."

Mahoney said that Gen. Milton J. Foreman, commander of the 23d division, Illinois National Guard, would call on Mayor Dever to petition in his behalf this morning. He may insist upon other action later.

Robertson, Noted Stage Veteran, Dies

Amid his books and manuscript parts of dramas and notable book collections Donald Robertson, actor, died yesterday in his cottage at 3339 North Hamilton avenue. With him were his son, Donald Jr., and his wife, Anna Robertson, known to the stage for years as Anna Titus.

His death was caused by a sinus infection from which he had suffered for eight weeks. Despite his illness he had prepared his annual concert in commemoration of the birth of Shakespeare for the anniversary celebration on April 23 at the statue in Lincoln park.

Mr. Robertson, whose labor for many years was aimed at making the theater in America a national institution such as it was in ancient Greece, was 66 years old.

Educated for Theater.

When he was a boy in Edinburgh his father had made the theater part of Robertson's education. The impulse for the stage never left the son, and last year he and William C. Hollister proposed to Mayor Dever the project of a Chicago Civic theater. "The theater is the church of the future," the actor once said.

Mr. Robertson entered the Brooklyn Polytechnic institute when he came to America in 1873. His start on the stage came in 1879.

The roles he played ranged from Greek tragedy to John Milton's Masque of Comus, and through Shakespeare, Moliere, Hauptmann, and many other famous dramatists.

He founded a drama school and from that recruited his companies. In 1908 the directors of the Chicago Art institute invited him and his players to make Fullerton Memorial hall their playhouse. In Chicago and in middle western cities he produced Ibsen's "Hedda Gabler," "Rosmersholm," and "Ghosts"; Moliere's "Tartuffe," "The Learned Ladies," and "The Miser," the latter two of his favorite roles; and Goldoni's "Curious Mishap."

Many Ventures in Chicago.

His first backers in Chicago were members of the Chicago Woman's club, who became interested through the efforts of Mrs. William Vaughan Moody. It was the plan to raise an endowment of $50,000 for a company to be known as The Players, of which Mr. Robertson was to have charge.

Nothing came of that venture, but the actor produced plays with success for a season at the Frost building in Ravinia park. Then for a time his players appeared in matinees at the Garrick theater.

Another of his ventures included plays at Hull House.

MINERS SPURN PEACE; BRITAIN IN A NEW CRISIS

Up to Baldwin to End Deadlock.

BY JOHN STEELE

(Chicago Tribune Press Service.)

LONDON, May 20.—The miners' delegates and coal mine owners at separate meetings today unanimously rejected the government's latest proposals for ending the dispute in the coal industry, which tomorrow enters its fourth week of stoppage.

The miners remained dogged, refusing to accept the government's proposal for a 10 per cent cut in wages for four weeks, pending the reorganization of the industry, and rejected the wage board, which would be empowered to abolish the national minimum wage and enforce varying minimums throughout the districts. The miners asserted the government's proposal was no honor to the declarations of Prime Minister Baldwin that he is not fighting to lower the miners' standard of living.

Owners Balk Baldwin Plan.

Simultaneously, the coal mine owners balked at the general acceptance of the government's plan. The owners drafted a reply to Mr. Baldwin, which they will hand to him tomorrow, containing alternative proposals for the reorganization of the industry.

The owners object mostly to the government's proposal that they forego profits during the reorganization period, in view of the fact that the miners should at the same time accept a reduction in wages.

The next move is up to the government, and it is difficult to foresee what further action the government can take, since the resolutions passed today are equivalent to a rejection of the vital conditions on which the government's offer of a £3,000,000 (£15,000,000) extension of the coal subsidy depends.

Await Baldwin's Reply.

Nevertheless, the miners' executive will meet again this evening in the expectation of a reply from Mr. Baldwin to the resolution sent him this morning.

The gravity of the new crisis is indicated by the fact that the miners' delegates will meet tomorrow to consider financial measures to be taken if the deadlock continues. In this connection Sir William Joynton-Hicks, home secretary, announced that the government did not object to the miners' reviewing financial aid from Russia or any other country.

Both sides still are counting on the generosity of the government, hoping that the latter will propose something better. They are adamant in their objections to certain sections of the proposals. The attitude of the delegates after the conference this morning gives little hope for peace in the coal industry in the near future.

Miners Refuse Lower Wage.

The owners insist that they are unable to pay the wages the miners ask without an indefinite continuance of the subsidy, while the miners say: "Where the money is coming from we do not know. It is no affair of ours. We will not work for less."

Today's decisions of the miners and owners intensifies the deadlock, and the delegates to both conferences left in gloomy mood.

Sir William Joynton-Hicks in his speech today said the general strike bubble has burst in England forever and labor has seen it is impossible ever to try out the weapon again.

Says Strike Cost $150,000,000.

Walter Runciman, former president of the board of trade and a leading English banker, estimated that the loss to trade in England as a result of the recent general strike would amount to $150,000,000 ($150,000,000) in a speech in the house of commons last night, referring to Chamberlain Winston Churchill's estimate of £150,000,000 ($1,500,000,000).

Mr. Runciman insisted that what the country had lost in trade and industry must be taken into account as fully due to the injury of the strike.

The £150,000,000 estimate was made up as follows: The coal industry, £7,000,000 ($70,000,000); railroads, £8,000,000 ($80,000,000); pig iron industry, £1,250,000 ($12,500,000); steel industry, £2,500,000 ($25,000,000); textiles, £5,000,000 ($50,000,000); chemical industry, £500,000 ($5,000,000); engineering and metal trades, £1,250,000 ($12,500,000); other industries, £1,250,000 ($12,500,000).

Mr. Runciman added, however, that half of the outside observations about the shaking of British finance and the blackness of the future were mere rubbish.

Cash Holds Up Agreement in Wright Trial

BY GENEVIEVE FORBES HERRICK

(Chicago Tribune Press Service.)

Madison, Wis., May 20.—(Special.)—A dollar sign and a woman are holding up the divorce case of Frank Lloyd Wright, internationally known architect, and Miriam Noel Wright, erstwhile sculptress.

Mrs. Wright, who has at last agreed to take a divorce she wasn't so sure she wanted, is considering a definite financial proposition made to her tonight by attorneys for her husband. She has until 9 a. m. tomorrow to make the decision.

Terms of Wright's Offer.

The offer is for $1,000 in cash and $125 a month for one year. At the end of this period there will be a readjustment to make the monthly amount larger, provided the architect's earning power returns. It was explained that his earnings have been practically nothing recently. Last Thanksgiving, when a settlement was suggested, it was reported that Mr. Wright offered $20,000 cash and $250 a month.

Mrs. Wright insists that she must have sufficient money for her needs, and she also wants to be sure that she gets more than Wright might give to Olga Milano, his one-time housekeeper at Taliesin, his estate at Spring Green, Wis.

Mr. Wright has insisted upon withdrawing his bill for divorce, charging desertion rather than drag through a frankly explicit trial the name of this same Olga.

Basis of Settlement.

Between the two points of controversy, the two lawyers for Mr. Wright and the four lawyers for Mrs. Wright, in a series of secret conferences for seven hours today, finally found a middle ground.

It is this: Mr. Wright withdraws his original bill, filed Nov. 10, 1925. Mrs. Wright withdraws her amended bill, filed last April, asking separate maintenance and charging her husband with adultery, and reinstates her original cross bill, filed last November, asking a divorce on grounds of cruelty.

Mr. Wright does not contest the suit. Mrs. Wright gets her divorce and a money settlement.

Theoretically everything was settled about 6 o'clock tonight. Then came the money problem. In his talk to the judge Mr. Wright had asked him to make financial provision "for this woman who have given me no peace for many years" and suggested that it be "fixed according to my ability to pay."

Inquire Into Ability to Pay.

In order then to determine the architect's ability to pay, counsel sent a hurry-up call for R. L. Hopkins, president of the Bank of Wisconsin and custodian of Frank Lloyd Wright's dollars.

This is a high-resolution black and white photograph of a manuscript page from the Lindisfarne Gospels. The most prominent feature is a large, ornate initial 'A' in the top left corner, which is part of a larger decorative scheme. The initial is filled with intricate interlaced knotwork and zoomorphic designs, including a swan and a dragon. The page is framed by a decorative border, and the text is written in a Gothic script. The image is a close-up, showing the texture of the parchment and the fine details of the inkwork.

BATH TUB SCENE FEATURES EARL CARROLL TRIAL

Only

Witness Insists It Had Somebody in It.

New York, May 20.—(Special.)—Earl Carroll's birthday party went on trial today with a white enamel bathtub as the piece de resistance. The jury decided whether the bathtub contained champagne, and in addition—Miss Joyce Hawley, and secondly, whether Mr. Carroll had heard a great deal about the bathtub and its contents. Perjury by Mr. Carroll is charged.

In the afternoon, Herbert C. Smith, Carroll's attorney, began his case by showing who "the Smelly But" "around here" are. But before the jury had heard a great deal about the life and habits of Mr. Carroll, the trial was adjourned.

Ginger Ale: Nothing More.
The birthday party was given at the Carroll theater on Feb. 22. Stories about the party got around, as such things will, and four days later Mr. Carroll was called before a federal grand jury.

He said then that the bathtub had held ginger ale, and nothing more, specifically, it had contained neither champagne nor Miss Joyce Hawley.

Miss Hawley, he told the grand jury, was a young woman whom he had never had the pleasure of meeting, but he had engaged the week before at a table at the Hotel Astor.

Mr. Carroll again appeared before the grand jury. The grand jury minutes were read today by Assistant U. S. Attorney Hitchcock.

Mr. Carroll chose his guests. He said that he had made out no list.

Hay About His Guests.
Q—How did you know how many guests to prepare for? A—Well, my guests have always been well attended.

Q—Some of those invited don't come, but a lot of people who haven't been invited show up, so we get a crowd anyway.

Q—Carroll was asked who these guests had been.

A—All I can remember is a sea of faces, he replied.

Q—Can you name one person? You say there was dancing? Don't you remember whom you danced with? A—My dear friend, [Carroll produced her husband's play, "Aahes!"]

Q—Who else? A—I can recall only Cathcart. That is all.

Q—[A grand juror.]—Was Conde at there? A—Yes.

Q—[A grand juror.]—Harry Thaw? A—Yes.

Q—Any literary people? A—No.

Q—Was Irwin Cobb there? A—Yes.

Unfamiliar with Wine.
Mr. Carroll admitted the presence of the bathtub, which, he said, was prop from last year's "Vanities."

He also said ginger ale had been supplied free. The grand jury wanted to know how Mr. Carroll knew it was ginger ale.

Q—You are familiar with the taste of intoxicating liquors? A—No, sir.

Q—If it had been wine, you wouldn't have known what it was? A—Well, I would have known it was not ginger ale. I would not know the difference between Scotch and rye, though, for instance.

He said he wouldn't know what champagne tasted like.

Then the question of Miss Hawley and whether she was in the bathtub arose.

Q—Did any one fall into the tub, or was any one pushed into the tub? A—No. The newspaper accounts of what happened are so garbled there is no doing anything about it.

Q—Was Miss Hawley there? A—I don't know.

KENTUCKY WOMAN JOINS CONGRESS RACE ON WET PLATFORM

Newport, Ky., May 20.—(Special.)—Mrs. Marie C. Haller of Fort Thomas has announced as a candidate on the Republican ticket for congress from the Sixth district on a wet platform.

She is believed to be the only person ever to announce for office in Kentucky and openly declare in favor of repeal or modification of the prohibition laws. There is another woman and several men candidates for the Democratic nomination.

Mrs. Haller said, "I believe the majority of people in Newport and Covington are liberal in their views, and I am confident that I will get a large vote."

Mrs. Haller is the wife of Ray Haller, prominent business man. She has long been a leader in political matters and former Gov. Edwin P. Morrow, now of Chicago, member of the U. S. railroad labor board, it was said, conferred the title of colonel upon her husband in recognition of work done by Mrs. Haller in the campaign when Morrow was elected by about forty thousand majority.

The government called its first important witness, Arthur Irwin, a newspaper man, who said he attended the party uninvited.

Q—What was the liquid in the bathtub? A—

Here Mr. Smyth objected. He said that since the prohibition act had been in force eight years the obvious youth of the witness made it impossible that he could have tasted intoxicating liquors. He was, consequently, unfit to tell whether the bathtub contained intoxicating liquors or not. Irwin protested he was twenty-seven. He then said he had taken two drinks that "tasted like champagne" from the bathtub.

Q—Have you tasted champagne since the prohibition act? A—Yes; ten or fifteen times.

Q—Did you see any man or woman get into the bathtub? A—Yes.

Here Judge Henry W. Goddard adjourned the case until tomorrow.

SET EYES ON '33 TO ECLIPSE ALL PREVIOUS FAIRS

Committee Soon to Have Definite Plan.

With 1933, the 100th anniversary of Chicago's organization as a village, set as the date, plans for a centennial eclipsing the world's fair of 1893 within a few days are expected to start taking definite form.

Although a subcommittee will take final action on the time and scope of the event, sentiment at a meeting of the ways and means committee of Mayor Dever's commission, yesterday strongly favored a celebration of giant proportions in 1933 rather than 1937.

Ripe for "World's Greatest."
"In 1833 Chicago had but fifty inhabitants," said Alexander H. Revell, a leader in the discussion. "Now it has 3,000,000 and is the wealthiest wonder city of the world. It is ripe for a great world-wide exposition."

A few members thought the condition of foreign finances might hamper the celebration, but Mr. Revell, with the majority, was certain it would be no handicap. The benefit to the city, he estimated, would be not less than $1,000,000.

Want to Fix Scope.
Upon the recommendation of Melvin H. Traylor, president of the First National bank, however, it was decided to ask the mayor to appoint the subcommittee to consider the scope of the celebration. Too much study could not be given such a tremendous undertaking, he said.

Among those at the meeting were Capt. Myron E. Adams, Harry A. Wheeler, D. F. Kelly, Albert D. Lasker, Mrs. Catherine Waugh McCulloch, Miss Agnes Nestor, Victor Olander, James Simpson, Augustus S. Peabody, Otto L. Schmidt, and Col. A. A. Sprague.

THEATER DISTURBER FINED.
John Nugent of 2418 Ashbury avenue, Evanston, was fined $100 and costs yesterday by Magistrate Charles C. Franklin for attacking an Evanston theater usher when the latter attempted to eject him and a friend, Roy Nahman, 918 Foster street, Evanston, for making too much noise.

Nahman's case was continued for a week.

Girl, 11, Man, 62, Wed; Florida Law Attacked

Tampa, Fla., May 20.—(Special.)—Archale laws of Florida have made possible marriage of Mary Lee Johnson, 11, and Albert O. Driggers, 62, whose nuptials have so stirred the city that legislators have been besieged with demands that the statute be repealed. The mother of the girl boasts of her son-in-law's bank account and is satisfied with the marriage because "it will take Mary Lee off her hands."

The Florida laws do not fix a minimum age limit for brides with parental consent.

Arrest Inspectors for $50,000 Steel Co. Fraud

Max Goldman, 4918 North St. Louis avenue, Philip J. Darra and Leo Orskov, inspectors for the Inland Steel company, were arrested yesterday and charged with a conspiracy in which they are alleged to have defrauded the steel company of $50,000.

The inspectors, it is said, overvalued scrap iron purchased from Goldman and the three split the proceeds. Orskov last night admitted his share in the plot and offered to give back $15,000. The trio will be arraigned in the South Chicago court today.

Workers Plan Tieup of New York Subway System

New York, May 20.—(AP.)—The New York World will say tomorrow that more than 300 motormen and switchmen are reported to have voted secretly today to attempt a tieup of the Interborough Rapid Transit subway system at midnight Saturday unless a recent order concerning operation of trains is rescinded.

Flaming Morocco Towns Are Krim's Defiance to Spanish

BY LORIMER HAMMOND.

(Chicago Tribune Press Service.)

WITH SPANISH TROOPS IN SPANISH MOROCCO, May 20.—Abdel Krim's answer to the Spanish refusal of his peace offer is written across the sky and all along the horizon to night in the smoke from burning villages.

Within plain sight of the Spanish garrison I saw five Moroccan towns still in flames late today. The Rifians have burned twelve towns since Sunday. Refugee women and children belonging to tribes friendly to the Spaniards are scattered everywhere through the plains and valleys and along the road between Tangier and Tetuan, which is protected by armored cars, strong cavalry detachments, and block houses. Herds of cattle, sheep and goats, rescued from the raiders, are huddled along the roadside in the care of women and old men.

Many Fighting Men Slain.
Almost no young Moroccan fighting men are among the refugees. Those who were not massacred in the raids have gone over to the Rifian ranks.

Emerging yesterday from the official silence of the Franco zone, where the military censors were killing all dispatches unfavorable to the French, the Tribune correspondent was amazed to find the roads in the Spanish territory filled with homeless refugees fleeing for their lives from the Rifians. At the frontier of the international zone at Tangier it is necessary now to keep heavy guards to prevent the refugees from entering or leaving the protection of the neutral powers.

The British Red Crescent—the Moslem branch of the Red Cross—has been organizing relief stations at Tangier from which supplies, food, and tents are being distributed among the sufferers twice weekly.

Neglect Loyal Tribes.
THE TRIBUNE correspondent is informed that the Madrid government is severely criticized by local Spanish authorities for its attitude of indifference toward the refugees, all of whom belong to tribes loyal to the Spaniards and who are being persecuted by the Rifians for that reason. It is charged that the Spaniards are allowing the refugees to suffer from lack of food and shelter. The number of homeless Moroccan tribesmen living in the open hills is between 7,000 and 8,000.

Chief Zella-el-Brah man of the Beni Msaoui tribe—was wounded severely in his village, Beni-Hibouch, and is being taken to Tangier, where he will be operated on. He is one of Spain's most valuable native allies.

The attacks and looting against the Beni Msaoui tribe is being carried out by the Diebelia warriors under the direction of two bands of Krim's regulars, each band composed of fifty men, Rifians and filling the empty cans with gunpowder, stones, and scraps of metal.

It is impossible to estimate the number of casualties. More than 120 Moroccan tribesmen were reported killed when the Rifians raided Beni Rabouch. The other raids were smaller, but the total killed, it is believed, will amount to 600 or 700.

The disorder extends across from the northern slope of the Beni Msaoui mountains from Fondak to Hgana. The Spanish outposts have been pushed back from the hillsides and are now endeavoring only to hold the main road.

Jeff Davis' Grand Niece

New York, May 20.—(AP.)—Announcement was made today of the engagement of Miss Josephine Armstrong, grand niece of Jefferson Davis, president of the confederacy during the civil war, to Erskine Gwynne, son of the late Edward Erskine Gwynne, who was a nephew of Mrs. Cornelius Vanderbilt. The marriage will take place in June.

CASH HOLDS UP AGREEMENT IN WRIGHT DIVORCE

withdrawing his suit rather than "drag through fifth in this court and before a woman who had befriended me." Original and "to fix on record still other filth concerning the woman from whom, independently of any other woman, I would, for good and sufficient reasons, be free" (Mrs. Wright).

And for a while it looked as if he would have to withdraw his suit and throw the whole thing back into the tangle in which it has been. For first the judge attempted a reconciliation. He got the man and the woman into his chambers. The man said something to the woman. The woman called the man a congenital liar. And it was a sprightly time. The reconciliation plan was abandoned. Then Mr. Wright, through Attorney Bancroft, made a three-ple offer to his wife—one, let him get his divorce on desertion; two, reinstate her bill and get a divorce on pretty nearly any charge she wanted; three, come back to Talliesen and live with him.

More conferences and a final acceptance of plan No. 2 with its financial rider.

As he sat in his rooms tonight, wondering just what Mrs. Wright would decide to do when court convenes tomorrow morning, Mr. Wright talked of the motives upon which he based his action.

Volstead laws, speed laws, divorce laws, as they now stand, demoralize the individual, make liars and law breakers of us in one way or another and tend to make our experiment in democracy absurd," he said, "and I realize, in taking this stand, just what it means to me and mine."

Sighs Over His Lot.

"It means," with a bit of sigh, "more long years lived across the social grain of the social life of my people, making shift to live in the face of popular disrespect and misunderstanding as I best can for myself and those dependent upon me."

Of the money provision that he is asking the court to fix, Mr. Wright said: "But it must be made contingent upon her behavior. I cannot be harassed any longer by her personally or by her propaganda. There must be a clause prohibiting her from any interference with my personal life, private or economic."

"For no woman, nor man either, has I take it, any right to destroy the lives of others just because he or she happens to be disappointed in them, in their character, or both."

If Mrs. Wright does not accept the terms when she comes into court tomorrow morning all legal action is over, for the time, and Mr. Wright will go, he says, either to Tokio or to Holland, "to do what I can."

COOLIDGE SENDS CABLE OF PRAISE TO NORSE KING

(Chicago Tribune Press Service.)

OSLO, Norway, May 20.—President Coolidge has sent King Haakon the following cablegram:

"Accept my gratitude at the news of the safe arrival of Capt. Roald Amundsen and his associates in Alaska. I desire to offer your mastery and the people of Norway my congratulations for the success which attended the bold undertaking of this hardy, intrepid descendant of the vikings. It is a matter of great satisfaction that one of my countrymen should have been associated with him in this daring, courageous exploit."

"CALVIN Coolidge."

King Haakon answered:

"I am much touched with your telegram on account of Capt. Roald Amundsen's successful flight. I thank you and likewise congratulate you and the American people on the courageous success of Lieut. Commander Richard Byrd. Without the aid of Lincoln Ellsworth Capt. Amundsen would have been unable to carry through his plan."

Points of Superiority

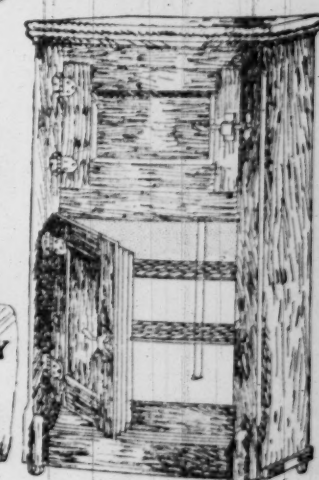

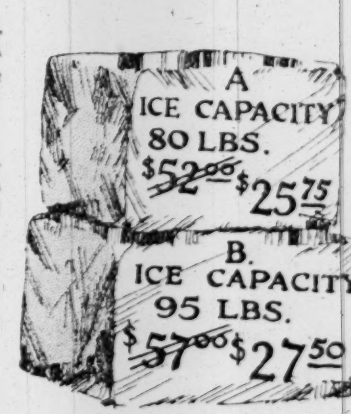

1. A duplex ice grate permits ventilation and an improved disposal of sediment and waste.
2. The removable ice-chamber is made of extra heavy metal.
3. The "waste-pipe" is removable; of nickel-plated copper, the most durable made.
4. Perfect insulation is guaranteed by massive walls, a "dead air" space, heavy charcoal sheathing, and tongued and grooved inner walls.
5. A "glass-smooth" solid end doubles the insulation, and is proof against dust and dirt.
6. A "baked white" provision chamber provides a non-absorbent body, glossy and sanitary.
7. Solid stone walls in the "Stone White" Refrigerator provide the most sanitary, durable, coldest, brightest and cleanest walls possible to produce.

PILESUDSKI BIDS FOR BALTIC UNION TO CHECK RUSSIA

Latvia, Latvia Lean to Alliance with Poland.

BY DONALD DAY.

(Chicago Tribune Press Service.)
LITHUANIA, May 20.—(By The Chicago Tribune.)
Lithuania have received offers from Pilsudski's government at to sign a defensive military under which both countries and Poland should the bolsheviks Poland agrees to support the states in a similar eventuality.
The Tribune is informed that both countries view favorably an agreement with Poland. Early action is expected. Finland also is reported to have received the same offer. John Lakaste, president of Latvia, has returned from Helsinki. The commander in chief of the Estonian army, several members of the staff, and several diplomats visited Helsinki at the same time. Conferences were held to consider a possible Baltic military and political union. Similar conferences have been going on in Baltic states for months.

Poland May Yield Vilna.
Marshal Pilsudski, it is reported has to settle the six year quarrel Lithuania over Vilna. He is said have offered to negotiate an agreement to abolish political and customs barriers between the two states in return for offering to cede Vilna and a pass of the Vilna corridor to Lithuania.

It is reported here that the soviet government has presented the draft of an arbitration treaty to Pilsudski, hoping to fulfill the various disregarded clauses in the Riga treaty if the Poles sign. Marshal Pilsudski is suspicious of Russian, however, and it is unlikely he will make any agreement with Russia.

The concern for Marshal Pilsudski's present state of health grows daily with his continued absence from public life. The foreign press correspondents were received today by one of Mar-said it was impossible for any one to intimated that pressure was growing to make the marshal declare a dicta-

POSEN, May 20.—(By The Chicago Tribune.)
The opposition to Marshal Pilsudski's régime is assuming international importance, while the leaders of the nationalist parties pour into Posen, now virtually another capital, for conferences. It is learned that secret agents are being dispatched to Paris to confer with the French government.

HARVESTER CO. PRESIDENT FEARS POOR CORN CROP

Following a report from Wall street that the International Harvester company would lose $250,000 in trading farm implements to farmers for corn, Alexander Legge, president of the company, said yesterday that his firm was not worried over the prospects of losing on the exchange, but feared a

to the Associated Press.
Mr. Legge said that the company had not yet compiled figures to show the amount of corn it would receive

PRAY FOR RETURN OF EVANGELIST BY DIVINE MIRACLE

Followers of Woman Kneel on Beach and Wait.

Los Angeles, Cal., May 20.—(By The Chicago Tribune.)
Officers investigating the disappearance of Almee Temple McPherson, pastor of Angelus temple here, worked tonight on several theories which they felt might upset the belief of thousands of her followers that she was accidentally drowned while surf bathing at Santa Monica Tuesday.
Meanwhile a little band of her supporters gathered before the altar of Angelus temple, imposing monument to the several years' labor of Miss McPherson here, and chanted:
"Almee is with Jesus; pray for her."
Some of the evangelist's followers believe that in some way or another Almee will "come back." One man, overcome by emotion and a long watch on the beach, declared he saw the image of the pastor walking on the water.

Followers Pray at Beach.

Mrs. Minnie Kennedy, mother of Mrs. McPherson, was firmly of the belief that the evangelist had been drowned. This view was shared by other followers, some holding that a miracle provided the vehicle for the disappearance of the famous leader.

On the beach a small group maintained its vigil. Men and women walked the sands aimlessly, wept, and kneelt and prayed.

Detective M. O. Barnard of Culver City said he saw Mrs. McPherson, in company with another woman, in an automobile bound for Los Angeles at the time she was reported missing.

Police Trace Clues.

Two women reported today that they saw Mrs. McPherson Tuesday afternoon at the Beach hotel, where she left her clothing, giving a note to one of two men.

Possible violence, centering about the evangelist's opposition to the election measure, recently carried, permitting resumption of Sunday dancing at Venice, was suggested as one answer to the mystery. Underground characters are said to have openly

MRS. NANCY P. TREE, FORMER MRS. FIELD, HURT AS HORSE FALLS

Charlottesville, Va., May 20.—(Special.)—Mrs. Nancy Perkins Tree, wife of Ronald Tree of London, and whose first husband was Henry Field of Chicago, was thrown from a green hunter she had recently brought from England and badly injured today. The accident occurred near her Virginia home, "Almador."

In taking a small fence on the farm estate of Rudolph Orman of Chicago, the animal reared and fell backward, partially pinning Mrs. Tree to the ground. At the University of Virginia hospital an X-ray showed that her pelvis bone was broken in two places.

Mrs. Tree is a daughter of the late Monroe Perkins of Richmond, Va.
Her mother, also deceased, was the eldest of the famous five Langhorne sisters. A brother, Chiswell Dabney Langhorne Perkins, resides in this county, and her only sister, Alice, married the Hon. Reginald Wann of London, a brother of Lord St. Oswald.

The Trees have two children, both boys, one an infant. Mr. Tree is a son her alleged declaration that she would than in a Venice dance hall.

Loop Store Employees to Get Memorial Holiday

Although Memorial day comes on Sunday this year, employees of the large State street department stores and many wholesale firms will be given a holiday on the following day, according to an announcement made yesterday by Col. H. F. Miller, secretary of the domestic and foreign commerce committee of the Association of Commerce.

Mt. Greenwood Antis Want Recount on Annexation

Citizens of Mount Greenwood, who love the old home village and want to keep it as it is, have filed a petition asking for a recount of the ballots cast in the election on April 20, which resulted in a victory for the opposing faction which wished to be annexed to Chicago. The annexationists won by 400 to 381, but the opposition asserts that more than twenty illegal votes were cast to swing the result.

TOWED AT EXPO. FREE OF COST AND EVERYTHING

Matrimony without expense to the bride and groom or their families is to be the lot of Paul C. Schrieber, 7834
South Carpenter street, and Miss Ellen Anderson, 1834 East 73d street.

They will be married tomorrow night in the tent of the Englewood exposition at 63d street and Lowe avenue.
Clothing merchants participating in the show will furnish the wedding garments, florists will present the flowers for the bride and the bride-maids, furniture dealers will donate the furniture for the couple's apartment from living room to kitchen, and jewelers will furnish the wedding and engagement rings. There will also be five years' free insurance on their property and plenty of groceries in the kitchen. Even the marriage license and the minister's fee will be gifts of the management.

It is estimated that the total value of the presents will be $7,000.

Final Accounting Made in Medill McCormick Estate

Final accounting of the $210,000 estate of the late Senator Medill Mc-Cormick was made yesterday in the Probate court. Under terms of the will Mrs. Ruth Hanna McCormick, the widow, was given the entire estate in trust. Taxes totaling $23,418 were paid on the estate. Mrs. McCormick was allowed a widow's award of $75,
000 for her immediate use.

Never a Marcel Wave

By Edna Wallace Hopper

My hair is ever-curling, with never a Marcel wave. And it always has a glow. The reason lies in a hair dress made exclusively for me. It was perfected for me by great experts when I had my long hair bobbed. Now all toilet counters supply it under the name Edna Wallace Hopper's Wave and Sheen. The price is 75c.

I cannot conceive of a girl or woman going without it when she knows. No one who sees my hair will do so. Nothing else I have ever found makes hair so lustrous, so wavy, so dainty, so abundant. My guarantee is enclosed with every bottle, so it costs you nothing if it doesn't please. Go try it at my expense.—Adv.

RAILROAD LABOR BOARD EXPIRES; NEW BILL SIGNED

Self-Government by Lines and Men to Be Tried.

(Chicago Tribune Press Service.) Washington, D. C., May 20.—(Special.)—Abolition of the railroad labor board, with headquarters in Chicago, became effective today when President Coolidge signed the Watson-Parker railroad labor act.

Under the new law the members and employees of the railroad labor board will receive pay for thirty days from today.

While indicating approval of the plan embodied in the bill, which was drafted by representatives of a majority of the railroads and of organized railroad employees, the President said he would have preferred "some more definite declaration for the possible protection of the public, but should the operation of the plan demonstrate such protection is needed it can easily be supplied by a future congress."

At Least Worth a Trial.

"I have come to the conclusion that the plan in this act should be tried," the President said.

"The fact that the roads and their employees are committed to the necessity of making the law a success, the President said, "goes far to assure that it will be a success."

The President reviewed the provision of the act as "a plan of labor relationship self-government within the (railroad) industry." Adjustment boards, a federal board of mediation, arbitration and an emergency board to be appointed in the event of a threatened interruption of the transportation service, the President said, were now designed "to protect the public and insure regular operation of railroad service."

Improves on 1920 Act.

"The plan," he said, "therefore comprises the essential principles of the railway labor board created in 1920, except that it throws a far larger responsibility for amicable relations upon the industry itself."

"The proposal has been criticized on the ground that it does not give adequate protection to the public from collusion between the railway managers and their employees to establish wages which would be reflected in unreasonable rates. I do not understand that this act greatly, if at all, increases the power which the roads and their employees have to do the same thing under the present law if they were so disposed."

Thinks Law Answers Critics.

"The answer to this criticism is that increases in railway rates must be approved by the interstate commerce commission, and this commission is required by law to exercise its power to prescribe just and reasonable rates under honest, efficient, and economical management. Moreover, this act expressly stipulates that the powers of the interstate commerce commission are unimpaired by its rates in accordance with the present law."

"It does appear to me that there is involved in all of these proposals a much wider issue, and one of first public importance," the President continued. "This wider aspect is that we should give every encouragement to industry to create within itself such a relationship and such an adjustment between its employers and employees as will give the public continuous and efficient service, and to accomplish these relations within itself without intervention of the government."

BOARD RULED SIX YEARS.
(By the Associated Press.)

During the six years' history of the United States railroad labor board, which ceased to function yesterday, it has authorized general wage increases and reductions involving hundreds of millions of dollars. It has seen one general strike, involving shippers on all class one roads of the country. The extent of its powers has been questioned repeatedly before the Supreme court, owing to the noncompliance of the two engine service brotherhoods and of the Pennsylvania Railroad company with some of its decisions.

SHIPPERS FIGHT HIGHER FREIGHT ON LINES IN WEST

But Trunk Road Counsel Pleads for Increase.

(Chicago Tribune Press Service.) Washington, D. C., May 20.—(Special.)—Shipper representatives, in arguments today before the interstate commerce commission in the western roads' case, launched an attack on the railroads' plea for an advance of 5 per cent in freight rates.

John E. Benton, general solicitor of the National Association of Railroad and Utilities Commissioners, declared the western railroads as a whole, on the basis of their own valuation, which he claimed was excessive, were earning more than four per cent. He declared no advance in rates was necessary.

"Decrease a Mandate."

Under the Hoch-Smith rate revision resolution, Mr. Benton in effect declared—the commission was under mandate of congress to reduce the rates on agricultural products. He argued that the only limitation imposed by congress was that adequate transportation should be maintained and that the condition of the western carriers did not indicate any prospect of improvement in service.

The Hoch-Smith resolution, he asserted, was an absolute bar to an advance in rates on farm products in the western district.

Says Bankers Beat Potter Plan.

Mr. Benton charged that the Potter plan for pooling of an advance of five per cent and distribution of the proceeds among carriers earning less than 5 per cent was dropped because the bankers who controlled the railroads turned it down.

Joseph N. Teal, counsel for the West Coast Lumbermen's association, declared that industry could not stand an increase in rates. He said it had been losing money for two years. The declaration that western railroads were on the verge of receivership were characterized by Mr. Teal as "hysterical."

William Church Osborn, counsel for security holders of northwestern railroads, pleaded for a revision upward of all rates in western trunk line territory. He asserted the low level of rates was the cause of the trouble in which the northwestern roads found themselves.

ATTY. GENERAL ACTS TO SPEED SCOTT HANGING

Report Killer Found Sane
by Alienists.

Attorney General Carlstrom yesterday took personal charge of the attack on the alienists which resulted in the hanging of Russell Scott, slayer of a Chicago woman.

It was practically conceded that Scott had been declared sane by the alienists who examined him yesterday, and that nothing remains but to take proper legal procedure toward returning him to the Cook county jail to be hanged.

Ordered to Asylum by Court.

When Scott, by a last hour maneuver, was prevented his execution was delayed, and by a jury in Judge Joseph B. Davis's court the court ordered an order committing the murderer to the Cook county jail for the crime of murder, to be held until he regained his sanity.

The report of the state alienists who examined Scott Tuesday has been delivered to Attorney General Carlstrom's Springfield office, and it is believed generally that the report holds him entirely sane, although no official announcement has been made. To substantiate this it was pointed out that the alienists reported to a contrary effect there would be no need at this time to seek an opinion from the attorney general.

Case to Set Precedent.

A legal precedent must be set in the Scott case, for attorneys have found in other cases in the history of Illinois in which a condemned man, saved from the gallows by an insanity finding, has been returned to be executed.

So that there may be no delays occasioned by legal technicalities, Attorney General Carlstrom decided to take charge of the matter himself, and yesterday he notified his Springfield office to dispatch the entire record to him in Chicago.

Mr. Carlstrom said that his assistants have already begun work on the matter, and that what legal authorities they find would be sent along to assist him in completing the work.

Must Set Hanging Date.

Several attorneys, familiar with Judge Davis's order in the case, declared that if Scott has been found sane the only procedure necessary is to have Dr. Frank A. Scumblefield, the Chester varden, certify that fact to Judge Davis, who would be required to set a date immediately for Scott's hanging. The form of that certification is said to be the question before Attorney General Carlstrom.

Attorney William Scott Stewart, counsel for Scott and also for his brother, Robert Scott, now awaiting trial for the same murder, has announced that he has plans prepared to checkmate the hanging program.

LIBERALS MAY OUST LLOYD GEORGE OVER MINE STORIES TO U. S.

LONDON, May 20.—A startling political problem has arisen over the alleged disclosure of an American news paper containing David Lloyd George's statements on the English strike. He now is in danger of being read out of the Liberal party. Already it is said, Lord Lloyd George has refused to attend meetings at which Mr. Lloyd George is present.

Mr. Lloyd George is present at the most powerful Liberal leaders, is said to be opposed to the continuance of Mr. Lloyd George as official party spokesman in the house of commons.

There is a general belief in parliamentary circles that the disintegration of the Liberal party is imminent. It is believed that if Mr. Lloyd George cannot hold his place as leader he is prepared to join the Labor party, taking with him such leading Liberals as Commander Kenworthy.

MELLON'S PLEA WINS HOUSE TO FRENCH TERMS

Approval of Settlement Is Expected Next Week.

(Chicago Tribune Press Service.)

Washington, D. C., May 20.—(Special.)—Approval of the French debt settlement by the house ways and means committee with an almost unanimous vote appeared a certainty today after Secretary of the Treasury Mellon explained its terms.

The committee will meet in executive session within the next few days to report the bill. Passage of the measure in the house may take place the latter part of next week.

Secretary Mellon was questioned relative to interest rates granted France, military expenditures of that country and various factors in connection with its capacity to pay. He asserted that the settlement reached was the best possible under the circumstances.

"France is the last of our large debtors," said Mr. Mellon. "Her future is bright. She has been and is one of the great nations of the world. Her people are able, hard working and frugal."

"To have imposed too heavy a burden at the outset would have rendered doubtful any subsequent payments."

Look Middle Course.

Secretary Mellon defended the adoption of a course midway between cancellation and insistence upon collection of the full principal and interest.

"In conducting negotiations for settling the war debts we meet with criticism from two extremes," Mr. Mellon said. "One body of opinion would have us forgive entirely the debts because the money was loaned during or immediately after a war against a common enemy. Those who maintain such a position fail to recognize the responsibility of the representatives of a government to its citizens."

"At the other extreme are those who insist that we should collect the full principal and interest of the debts. In its final analysis the maintenance of this position could but reach the practical result that nothing would be collected, since the full payment of the debt is beyond the capacity of the debtor."

Berenger Hails Settlement.

New York, May 20.—(Special.)—France will be able to stabilize her money on a gold basis when she has funded her debt with Great Britain as well as with the United States and when the equilibrium of her budget is realized, according to Henry Berenger, French ambassador, guest of honor of the Franco-American society tonight.

"France may suffer temporarily, but this money crisis is not an economic, social, or moral crisis. France soon will be on the way to put an end to the difficulties inherited from the war."

The heaviest financial burden on France, according to the ambassador, arose from rebuilding her ruins. He said that a Frenchman pays twice as much in taxes as an American, although the wealth of France is only one-sixth that of the United States. Halting the French-American debt settlement as putting an end to an unfortunate situation, the ambassador continued:

"Misunderstandings about money are not the deepest, but they may become the most dangerous. They corrupt the most solid friendships. They awaken suspicion in some and envy in others. The creditor comes to see in his debtor a repudiator who is making sport of him. The debtor comes to see in his creditor a miser who seeks to despoil him."

Leiter Begins Defense on Management of Estate

Attorneys for Joseph Leiter began yesterday to present the defense of the administration of the $10,000,000 estate of Levi Z. Leiter. Lady Marguerite Hyde, Leiter's sister, completed her case, in which she charged that Leiter had mismanaged the estate. Evidence in support of Leiter's assertions that his conduct of the Ziegler III, coal mines and railroad properties had greatly increased their values will be heard today.

BRITISH MINERS' FIGHT A WORLD ISSUE, COOK SAYS

BY JOHN STEELE.

(Chicago Tribune Press Service.)

LONDON, May 20.—A. J. Cook, radical secretary of the British Miners' federation, in an exclusive interview with THE TRIBUNE correspondent today outlined the wide scope of the coal mine dispute in England. He said:

"The struggle of the British miners against the attacks of the coal mine owners and government to reduce wages and break the national organization is one that not only affects all the workers of Great Britain, but immediately will have repercussions on the workers, especially the miners, of Europe and America. All the workers in the mining industry or in industries dealing in coal immediately are affected."

"The general strike was proof that the British workers realized the defeat of the miners would mean the defeat of the whole British working class movement. The first effect of such a defeat on the continent would be intensified competition in the selling of coal, as the reduction of the wages of miners in Britain would mean a further lowering of the price."

"Furthermore, British coal, then would be imported into France, Belgium, Germany, Holland and Denmark at prices below those at which the foreign miners could produce it. This would create a situation in which the coal owners would take the advantage to reduce the wages of the miners in the foreign coal fields. The antagonism between the governments created in this way might lead even to wars."

"Therefore it is of great importance to the workers in the continent and in America that the conditions of the miners of Great Britain are maintained, as coal mining is the key industry of this country."

"The miners are determined to continue the struggle despite the fact that the general strike has been called off. Whatever the consequences, the British miners will not consent to any lengthening of hours or breaking of any national agreements, and they will have to be beaten into submission before they accept a reduction of wages. This can be our only attitude in view of the government's complete repudiation of Sir Herbert Samuel's proposals."

WETS AND DRY SWITCH BATTLE SCENE TO OREGON

Portland, Ore., May 20.—(Special.)—Oregon's voters will go to the polls tomorrow in a primary election to settle many questions. Not the least among these is the wet and dry issue. Avowed "wets" and "drys" are seeking nominations for United States senator, governor and congressman.

The race for the Republican nomination for United States senator has developed the hottest fight. Eight candidates, including Robert N. Stanford, incumbent, seek the toga. One of the candidates is a woman, Mrs. Rose E. Barrett of Warrenton. L. R. Sandblast of Portland seeks nomination on a wet platform with consideration of Chief Justice Harry Olson.

ernment control; no saloons." The fight for the Democratic nomination for United States senator is between Bert E. Haney, former member of the shipping board, and Elton Watkins, former congressman from the Third district. Three seek the Republican nomination for governor. Gov. Walter M. Pierce is opposed for the Democratic nomination by Mrs. Louise Palmer Weber, who favors modification. Representative M. E. Crumplecker is the only member of the house from Oregon who is facing a fight. One of his opponents for the Republican nomination is Norman S. Richards, who proposes modification of the Volstead act, government regulation, and no saloons. R. F. Mulkey, the other candidate, is for prohibition.

Deadlock Forces
to New Naval

BY LARRY

(Chicago Tribune Press Service.)
GENEVA, May 20.—(Special.)—American delegates will begin discussions of naval agreements here.

This virtually is the statement of the morning session. American representatives of the disarmament negotiations, who are of the opinion of the committee that the American position is to have worked out, limiting the land and sea forces, is expected to be formulated in a session today.

South America. The delegates of Argentina and Chile all asserted that American representatives of the disarmament negotiations, who are of the opinion of the committee that the American position is to have worked out, limiting the land and sea forces, is expected to be formulated in a session today.

Count von Bernstorff, the first time since the opening of the conference, criticized the American position, which he said was not a realistic one. He said that the American position was not a realistic one. He said that the American position was not a realistic one.

U. S. LETS LAND AND AIR ISSUES IN EUROPE ALONE

Deadlock Forces Geneva to New Naval Parley.

BY LARRY RUE.

(Chicago Tribune Press Service.)
GENEVA, May 20. — Unless America's advice is consulted, the Geneva conference will be without the participation of the United States, according to a statement here today.
This virtually is the meaning of a statement this morning by Hugh Gibson, American representative, that in the American opinion the only solution of the disarmament problem is through regional agreements, which is the general opinion of the commission.
However, as the Americans are now to have worked out a plan for limiting the land and air forces of Europe, it is expected that the drafting committee will consult those before formulating a scheme.

South America, Too.

The delegates of Argentina, Brazil, Chile and Colombia, Mr. Gibson's statement that disarmament in the western hemisphere is altogether a different question, but all advised arbitration agreements as paving the way to regional agreements.

Learning back of the conference, however, is naval disarmament, in which it is expected that the United States delegation will take part prominently in order to complete the work of the Washington conference and to formulate an agreement for limiting cruisers, submarines, and other naval craft not included in the Washington accord.

So far there is no reason to believe that France and Italy are willing to regard submarines as anything but desirable weapons, which nullifies the British willingness to have cruisers limited.

Von Bernstorff Speaks.

Count von Bernstorff, speaking for the first time since the discussions opened, criticized the speakers for emphasizing what could not be done instead of what can be done. The delegates should apply the same rule on themselves as they did in disarming Germany. Talk of security, he said, was out of place in the discussions. "Produce, war now is impossible. The league has changed that," he said. "The only way now conceivable is between the league and an aggressor."

HOUDINI'S TRICKS PEP UP HEARING OF HOUSE BODY

BY JAMES O'DONNELL BENNETT.
(Chicago Tribune Press Service.)

Washington, D. C., May 20.—[Special.]—Houdini broke loose in marble today when a judiciary subcommittee of the house of representatives gave another hearing to mediums; to Houdini, one of occult practitioners of a practice, and to Houdini's investigators.

Out of a chaos of harsh language and handypans, neutral onlookers extracted the substantial fact that so late as Sept. 28, 1925, Robert T. Lincoln, son of the emancipator, made an emphatic written denial of statements attributed to spiritualists, that his father ever had been a spiritualist.

"Nevertheless," said Houdini in sworn testimony by the committee holding which riven hearings on the bill of Representative Sol Bloom (Dem., N. Y.), to stop the traffic in so-called spirit communications in the District of Columbia, "mediums continue to trade on Abraham Lincoln's name and I know for a fact that they have pretended to bring Lincoln into four seances held at the same time of the same night."

Premonitions of Lincoln.

"And yet," replied Representative Bloom (Rep., Ill.), "Lincoln did speak of having had vivid premonitions of his death."

Houdini acknowledged that, but described those premonitions, of which Lincoln gave detailed description, as "coincidences merely."

Asked by Representative Hammer (Dem., N. C.) whether he made any claim to "divine powers," Houdini replied:

"No, I'm just an ordinary mortal trying to get along," adding that his exposures of mediums were costing him $10,000 a year.

But his money was no lure to the mediums clamoring in the marble halls today for, with an armed detective at his elbow, he flung $10,000 in chase of new hundred dollar bills on the committee table and said, "I will deliver that money now to any medium who now and here will make a 'demonstration' that I cannot prove a fraud."

Madam Marcia Claims Money.

The brief, but solemn silence that followed was broken by the shrill tones of the bellow "Madam Marcia," one of the federal city's leading mediums, who cried: "That money belongs to me! I predicted Warren G. Harding's election and death."

But she did not get the money and amid waxing solemnity, Houdini's eagle eyed almoner whisked it back into his brief case, nobody having offered to demonstrate anything.

The Harding name was again dragged into the hearing when Jane Coates, another medium, having availed taken the oath, testified that Mrs. Warren G. Harding "openly visited mediums, as did many connected with her during the Harding administration."

Jane Coates gave her sworn testimony in pages that reached for yards, denying that at "a reading" on Monday last she had told Houdini's chief investigator, Rose Mackenberg, that the family at present occupying the White House was addicted to table tipping or any other form of mediumistic high jinks.

As to Miss Rose and her "exposures," Jane Coates said: "I am convinced that Houdini has practiced black magic on this woman and has hypnotized her."

And so amid gales of laughter by some and amid wide eyed, trustful stares by others, the sickening fool went on: Houdini occasionally bringing the assemblage back into twentieth century sunshine by doing some of his trick "demonstrations," and causing the late Benjamin Franklin—good and dead now these 220 years—to deliver to Representative Florence P. Kahn (Rep., Cal.) a spirit message reading: "Good work. Find that Julius' efforts are appreciated."

The Julius thus indorsed was the late Representative Kahn, whose seat in congress his widow now occupies. Representative Rathbone solemnly held the slates on which the spirit of Franklin was supposed to have written the indorsement.

Palm Beach's New Hotel Palace Goes to Receiver

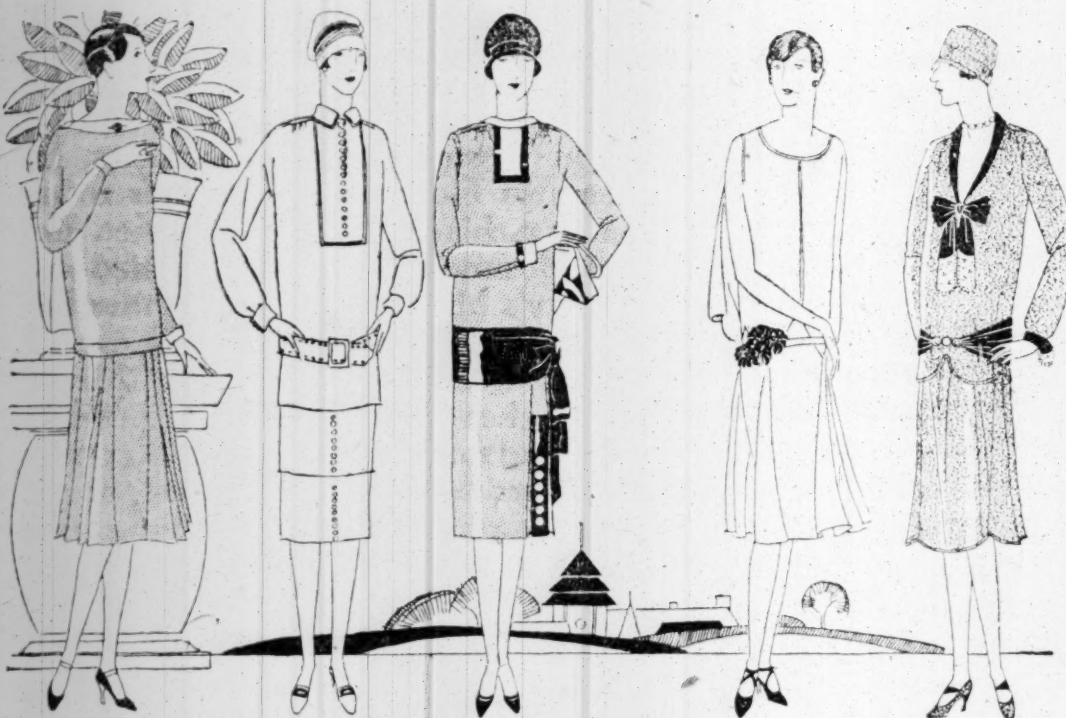

New York, May 20.—[Special.]—Palm Beach's new $5,000,000 hotel, the Alba, which opened in February, has gone into voluntary receivership. The structure was built by the Southern Florida Realty company, of which G. Maurice Heckscher, a son of August Heckscher, the philanthropist, is president. One reason given for the receivership is that extra costs were met in rushing completion for the last winter season. After it did open late the patronage was disappointing.

McMILLAN WINS NOMINATION IN VOTING RECHECK

Noses Out Morgan for Municipal Bench.

Assistant State's Attorney Robert E. McMillan will be certified as one of the Republican nominees for Municipal court judge when the election commission issues its proclamation of the April 13 primaries next week.

The result of the contest between McMillan and Judge William L. Morgan for twelfth and last place on the ticket remained unknown until last night, when virtual completion of the recheck on disputed precincts showed McMillan the winner by 574 votes.

Discrepancies in three precincts still remain to be cleared up, but the commission announced that while there may be some slight change in the official figures the result will remain the same. Until the recheck was finished the Deneen camp claimed the nomination of Judge Morgan.

McMillan's victory gives the Crowe-Barrett organization nine of the twelve places on the Republican Municipal court ticket and three to the Deneen camp. Judge Morgan, who may contest McMillan's nomination, was the third sitting judge to go down to defeat, two other jurists, Judges Ann G. Adams and Henry M. Walker, running as independents, being overwhelmed in the contest between the rival factions.

The Complete Vote.

Following is the complete vote for the Republican Municipal court nominations:

WILLIAM B. FITZGER (C-B)	166,187
ROBERT E. McMILLAN (C-B)	166,206

LOSS $75,000 IN WEST UNION FIRE. Terre Haute, Ind., May 20.—(AP)—A fire in the business district of West Union, Ill., twenty-five miles southwest of here, today destroyed five buildings and the stocks of the merchants causing a loss estimated at $75,000.

CURTISS TRIES TO SWING AIRPLANE TRADE IN CHILE

VALPARAISO, Chile, May 20.—Planning to wrest from the British their monopoly on airplanes for the Chilean government, Charles Webster, president of the Curtiss Export corporation, arrived from New York today with an armored Curtiss pursuit plane for demonstration. Later he made a flight to Buenos Aires across the Andes, accompanied by Lieut. James H. Doolittle of the United States army, who was the international seaplane race winner at Baltimore last year. The Curtiss corporation received, during the last Alessandri administration, a contract for airplanes amounting to $400,000, which since has not been confirmed, owing to the expulsion of the former aviation office officials from Chile and the political opposition.

Unveil Coolidge Portrait in Massachusetts Senate

Boston, Mass., May 20.—(AP)—A portrait of President Coolidge, painted by Edmund C. Tarbell, Boston artist, was unveiled today in the senate chamber at the Statehouse. Seven former Presidents of the state senate, over which Mr. Coolidge presided in 1914 and 1915, were present.

BLAME SECRET KLAN FOR 7 DEAD IN HINDU RIOTS

CALCUTTA, May 20.—The total casualties after three days of rioting in Kharagpur, due to Hindu and Moslem hatred, is seven dead and fifty seriously injured.

The rioting began when Hindus, accompanying a funeral, played music when passing a mosque, bringing out the worshippers. Blows led to murderous assaults.

Many were stabbed in the back, as in the Calcutta riots. The same organization seems to be behind these scenes. The weapons include German bayonets, spears, blisses, hooks, hammers and knives. Houses were stacked with wood and fired, and women and children were assaulted.

The police prevented mass rioting, but isolated attacks continued until Gurkhas arrived from Calcutta.

9 KILLED, SCORES HURT AS POWDER MILL EXPLODES

BERLIN, May 20.—A powder factory at Hassloch, Bavaria, near Wurzburg, was destroyed by a terrific explosion this morning, killing nine and injuring scores. The force of the explosion swept the entire building out of existence and an enormous crater was formed where it stood.

Work was in full swing when the catastrophe occurred. The first explosion was followed by others, hurling masonry, heavy machinery, and human bodies hundreds of yards, while the concussion was so violent that the roofs of houses and windows in villages miles away were torn off. Trees in a forest near by were torn out by the roots.

Fire broke out, making the work of rescuing the injured difficult. Heart-rending scenes were witnessed as they were carried to the hospital.

POOR MAN CUPID TO PANGALOS' SON SENT TO EXILE

VIENNA, May 20.—Odysseus Pangalos, son of the Greek president, who was exiled by his father on account of a love affair, leaves Belgrade tomorrow for London, where he will become naval attaché of the Greek legation. He will be accompanied by his bride, How and why he got the post is a mystery.

Young Pangalos' presence in Belgrade solves another mystery. Some time ago a Greek merchant, George Sklades of Corfu, arrived there. Shortly after the Greek government demanded his extradition for embezzlement. M. Sklades asserted he was persecuted by President Pangalos because of political enmity.

Young Pangalos, when called by the Belgrade police, testified that M. Sklades was innocent and that the Greek government demanded his extradition because he protected young Pangalos' bride.

In reply to inquiries from motor buyers, this definite assurance is made to the public:

There is no intention to either discontinue manufacture of the Essex "Six" or to change its name.

Essex is our largest selling car. More than 300,000 are in service. Daily production has just been increased 50%, which will make the May output for the Coach alone greater than the entire Essex May output for last year, the then record Essex month.

Production of both the Hudson Super-Six and of the Essex "Six" will be continued with the intent to keep them the outstanding values of their respective types.

DRIVERS' LICENSE LAW SOUGHT TO CURB AUTO TOLL

Agitation for a drivers' license law began yesterday following an accident in which a woman motorist, driving a new automobile for the first time, killed a woman pedestrian and injured five other persons.

Mrs. Rose Stillman, 35 years old, 641 West Huron street, the woman driver, made a statement to the police while being held by the police, she was finally released on a $10,000 bond after being booked on manslaughter charges.

Not Entirely to Blame.

Mrs. Stillman was not entirely to blame, said S. J. Williams, director of the public safety division of the national safety council.

If there were a drivers' license law, she would not have been allowed to drive a new machine until she had passed an examination and demonstrated her ability to drive alone. We will make every effort to pass such a law in the near future.

Two deaths yesterday as a result of automobile accidents raised the county's 1926 toll to 238.

While playing on the sidewalk with several other children last night, Susie Hockstra, 3 years old, 418 West 113th place, ran into the street at 103rd street and Normal avenue and was struck by an automobile and fatally injured. She died at the Pullman hospital. Although it is believed that the accident was unavoidable, Edward Hitz, 11256 Edmore avenue, driver of the car, was arrested and charged with assault with a deadly weapon.

Skull Fracture Fatal.

A skull fracture received Wednesday when he was struck by an automobile caused the death of John Gerth, 50 years old, 404 Cuyler street. The accident occurred on Irving Park boulevard near Milwaukee avenue. John Schuch, 4759 North Oakley avenue, driver of the automobile, was held on a manslaughter charge.

FALL KILLS SANITARIUM PATIENT.

Andrew Hanson, 64 years old, 3035 North Edge was struck by a car Sunday when he slipped off a second-story window at the Chicago sanitarium, where he had been a patient for more than a month.

WINNETKA WIFE GIVES BOND ON LIQUOR CHARGE

Mrs. Ralph R. Johansen of 850 Sheridan road, Winnetka, wife of the president of the Hamilton College of Law, surrendered to the Evanston police yesterday and was arraigned before Magistrate Samuel Harrison on a charge of transporting liquor in her automobile. The case was continued to May 29 and bonds of $300 were furnished by Mr. Johansen.

Mrs. Johansen was arrested by Patrolman Hanke on May 19 for alleged violation of a traffic ordinance. The patrolman charged that she tore up a common slip. The Evanston city council is pushing the case against Mrs. Johansen.

DEM. CONVENTION CALL GOES TO SPRINGFIELD

The call of the Democratic county committee for a judicial nominating convention on April 27, 1927, on which the Chicago bar association's attack on the constitutionality of the judicial primary law will be based, was forwarded yesterday to Secretary of State Emmerson. His formal refusal to issue it is expected in a few days. An immediate appeal to the Supreme court will follow. Attorney General Carlstrom, as the state's legal adviser, is required to defend the law in the court.

CARPENTER DIES FROM FALL.

Benjamin Cohen, 1333 North Maplewood avenue, a carpenter, died yesterday at Lutheran Memorial hospital of injuries received Monday when he fell from a building under construction at George street and Hamilton avenue.

DAUGHERTY PLEA TO U. S. CHARGE IS NOT GUILTY

Trial Judge Disqualifies
Himself in Case.

New York, May 20.—[Special.]—Harry M. Daugherty, former attorney general of the United States, pleaded not guilty in federal court today to an indictment charging conspiracy to defraud the United States in the return of securities of the American Metal company.

Appears in Person.

Mr. Daugherty appeared before Judge Goddard, entered his plea in person in a low and expressionless voice, and then resumed his seat at the counsel table, while his attorney, Max D. Steuer, started to present a motion. Judge Goddard interrupted, saying that since he had been appointed to the federal bench while Mr. Daugherty was attorney general he would decline to hear arguments in the case.

He directed that the motion be taken before Judge Hand, senior judge for this district, and granted a motion that J. N. Linton, an Ohio attorney and close friend of the former attorney general, be admitted to practice in this district for the purpose of the defense. Bail was then fixed at $5,000.

Miller Ill at His Home.

The argument before Judge Hand will probably be made within three weeks. Assistant United States Attorney Simpson indicated. Col. Thomas W. Miller, former alien property custodian, who was indicted with Mr. Daugherty and the late John T. King, was not present when his name was called. It was explained he is ill at his home in Wilmington, Del., with blood poisoning.

BANK REFUSES FRANCE ITS GOLD TO SAVE FRANCS

PARIS, May 20.—With American bankers deaf to its pleas, the government now finds the Banque de France blocking its efforts to obtain money to aid the franc. Tonight the bank stubbornly is refusing to allow Finance Minister Raoul Peret to touch either its gold reserve or the Morgan loan.

It is learned that the emergency cabinet conference in the last two days were featured by violent scenes through which the regents of the Banque de France steadfastly denied Premier Briand's and Finance Minister Peret's pleas. The bank has been notified it must give its final answer one way or the other tomorrow.

The radical members of the cabinet are insistent that Premier Briand force what is supposed to be the government bank to cough up under the menace that they will demand the resignations of the regents, Baron de Neufville, Baron Edouard Rothschild, and Francois de Wendel, as well as Gov. Robineau.

ONLY ONE TO DIE BY LETHAL GAS IN NEVADA TODAY

Carson City, Nev., May 20.—[U. N.]—Eleventh hour action by the state pardon board has saved John Randolph from death in Nevada's lethal gas chamber and tomorrow's execution will claim but one life instead of two.

In dramatic fashion the group of men empowered to grant leniency to murderers late today commuted Randolph's death penalty to a sentence of life imprisonment. The board refused to act in the case of Stanko Jukich, however, and the bulky Serbian will be executed alone for the slaying of his 16 year old sweetheart.

Unqualified recommendations that Randolph's death sentence be changed, rushed here by special messenger from District Judge B. F. Moran and District Attorney Lester Summerfield at Reno, caused the board to reconsider previous decisions and save the matricide from the gas house.

Ex-Congressman, Mayor Kills Self to Avoid Inquiry

Columbus, O., May 20.—[AP.—D. C.]—Badger, former mayor of Columbus and congressman and a former judge of the Franklin County Common Pleas court, killed himself in his law office today. The suicide occurred at a time he was to appear before Police Prosecutor John J. Chester to be interrogated concerning his knowledge of an alleged perjury said to have been committed in the courts of Fayette county at Washington courthouse a year ago.

Troopers, Bloodhounds and Posses Seek Girl's Attacker

Trenton, N. J., May 20.—[Special.]—Twelve state police troopers from the Freehold and Hightstown barracks, two bloodhounds and posses of farmers armed with shotguns were beating the countryside around Perrineville tonight for trace of a man who this morning attacked Rose Tarabash, 12, of Perrineville when she was on her way to school. The girl was brought to McKinley hospital. It is expected that she will recover, although it is feared her skull is fractured and she is severely bruised on head and arms.

GROW WITH THE TRIBUNE IN 1926

EVIDENCE ENDED IN WHITTEMORE BALTIMORE TRIAL

Baltimore, Md., May 20.—(Special.)—Richard Reese Whittemore took the stand in his own defense today and testified that on Feb. 20, 1925, he killed Robert H. Holtman, a guard, and escaped from the Maryland penitentiary. Whittemore said he struck Holtman with a brick and never meant to kill him. He denied he had stolen the guard's pocketbook, containing $50, and while he acknowledged taking the guard's keys, he said he did so because he realized that to have remained in the prison would have meant a beating and perhaps mutilation. He was on the stand slightly more than half an hour, during eighteen minutes of which the prosecution subjected him to a cutting cross-examination. But it failed to shake his story. He answered questions in a low tone and carried himself with the same self-assurance that he has manifested since his arrest.

Embarrassed Before Widow.

Perhaps his most embarrassing moment was just before he himself was called to the witness stand when State's Attorney Herbert R. O'Connor called Mrs. Marie Holtman, widow of the murdered guard, who with her daughter, Bessie, has been in constant attendance since the trial opened.

For the first time during either trial he failed to meet the glance of a witness. Instead he hung his head for a moment, then turned his gaze in the direction of the jury.

Mrs. Holtman testified that her husband carried four ten dollar notes in an old pocketbook the day he was killed.

Both sides rested this afternoon and court adjourned until ten o'clock to-morrow morning, when counsel will address the jury.

But Dietz's testimony was largely nullified by that of Arthur N. Fraidin, another prisoner, who told how Dietz had confessed to making a "frame" confession, saying he had been offered commutation of his sentence as a reward.

Both sides rested this afternoon and court adjourned until ten o'clock to-morrow morning, when counsel will address the jury.

HIGHLAND PARK MAN KILLED.
Arthur E. O'Leary, 19 years old, 143 South Green Bay road, Highland Park, was instantly killed yesterday when he was struck by a Chicago and Northwestern train in front of the main gate of the Great Lakes training station.

RAILROADS MAKE READY FOR BOOM FREIGHT TRAFFIC

Preliminary steps to put the railroads of the country in readiness to handle what is expected to be the heaviest freight traffic season on record were taken yesterday at a meeting of the American Railway association.

A report of the car service division says that advance crop estimates for 1926 indicate that the transportation problem this fall will be greater than ever before. Winter prospects in the southwest are reported never better at this season. It was reported that satisfactory handling of this crop will require the greatest possible cooperation between shippers, receivers and the railroads.

Attention was called to the necessity for early conditioning of grain cars for specialization of eastern and southern roads in returning box cars to the west, and for utilization by western roads of cars belonging to other lines so they can hold their own for grain movement.

ALDERMEN O. K. COMMISSION TO RULE TRACTION

Formation of a commission of five members to control Chicago's traction lines under the proposed new ordinance was approved yesterday by the council committee on local transportation.

Each of the commissioners, the ordinance says, shall be appointed by the mayor for a term of five years, subject to reappointment. Qualifications for membership, the committee decided, shall provide only that the appointees be persons of business ability and public spirit, in no way connected with the transit companies.

The committee expects to complete its section by section consideration of the ordinance today and to call officials of the surface lines to discuss its provisions early next week.

WOMAN TAKES POISON DOSE.
Mrs. Orpha Dodero, 37 years old, was taken to the county hospital yesterday after she had swallowed poison at her home, 134 South Sacramento avenue. Hospital attendants said she would recover.

PAT ROCHE BACK IN POWER; U. S. SHIFTS TACTICS

A. P. Madden in Charge of Booze Cases.

Pat Roche, slap-bang federal sleuth, whose technique has been cramped by governmental red tape during the last six months, yesterday swung back into the saddle following the receipt of official notification that his chief, A. P. Madden, has been made boss of booze and dope conspiracy cases in these parts.

Word that Roche had been restored to his former prestige, plus, traveled fast among bootleggers and prohibition agents who don't always live up to regulations, it was reported.

Before he was shown of his authority, Roche and his partner, C. L. Connelley, devoted a great deal of time to checking up prohibition department personnel.

Back at Old Job.

Although Chief Madden had not returned from Washington with his plans for the new enforcement arrangement, Agent Roche said he expected to return to his work of seeking out agents who "take" if there are any such as well as the more scrupulous ones, who negotiate with bootleggers from bootleggers on the 39 year payment plan (if there are any such). Mr. Roche said he had no feeling of malice toward any individuals whom he suspected of "high hailing" him during the period his department was restrained from working on booze and prohibition personnel cases and that the "he who laughs last" action will have no bearing on future activities of the department.

Madden Home Today.

Chief Madden is to return from Washington today and call a conference with Prohibition Administrator E. C. Yellowley and Narcotic Agent in Charge L. J. Ulmer. Following a review of current business and pending cases, Mr. Madden is expected to file a personnel regulation for thirty men, to be assigned to Chicago by Elmer L. Frey, national chief of the intelligence unit.

Mr. Yellowley and Mr. Ulmer yesterday were advised of the change of enforcement policy in letters from Gen. Lincoln C. Andrews, assistant secretary of the treasury in charge of prohibition and narcotic law enforcement.

STRIVE TO BREAK BOTTLE NECK AT CHICAGO AVENUE

With the widening of Lake Shore drive from Oak street to North avenue, practically assured, motorists turned their attention to breaking another bottle neck on the north side artery between Chicago avenue and Oak street.

One plan contemplated is taking six feet from each curb from Oak street to Pearson street and creating a roadway fifty-seven feet in width. It is also proposed to run a southbound drive around the west side of the water tower at Chicago avenue.

Park commissioners yesterday indicated that attention will be given to this matter as soon as other improvements were out of the way.

ALDERMEN TO CONSULT CAR BOND OWNERS

The different protective committees formed to represent holders of the various securities of the Chicago street car companies yesterday were requested to meet with the council committee on local transportation next week.

The council committee wishes to get the committees' ideas in connection with drafting ordinances and state statutes which will permit terminal permits under which the car lines might operate on expiration of the present ordinance next January.

The committee for holders of the Chicago Railways company 5 per cent "B" bonds announced last night that deposits of bonds under the protective agreement now total $2,000,000 out of the total of $17,000,000 outstanding.

Citizens Capture Moron Who Attacked Boy of 5

Walter Jerry, 25 years old, 5806 Bennett avenue, an alleged moron, was captured by two citizens who pursued him last night after they had heard the screams of a 5 year old boy whom he had dragged into a prairie near 1923 street and Euclid avenue. The boy, Edward Bosung, 8845 Euclid avenue, later pointed Jerry out at the South Chicago station. William Dubowski, 1630 Kingston avenue, and Carl Malcomb, 8807 Euclid avenue, were the captors.

SHOOTING CASE DISMISSED.

Judge Hartigan in the Maxwell street court dismissed the case of Mrs. Henry Gaspard, 3323 West Harrison street, who was arrested the day before for firing a shot at her sister, Maria Gaspard, during a quarrel of their children. Mrs. Gaspard failed to appear in court.

OBJECTIONS TO EXCHANGE AVE. PAVING DROPPED

John J. Sloan, president of the board of local improvements, won his fight to carry out the long delayed paving of Exchange avenue without a reduction in assessments at a hearing yesterday before Judge John K. Newhall.

After a conference of attorneys for the Property Owners' association, it was decided to drop the objections to the improvement and settle on the basis of a 25 per cent public benefit. The $215,000 strip of paving, to extend from 71st to 79th street, has been held up by objectors for eighteen months, according to Mr. Sloan, despite the protests of an overwhelming majority of the property owners.

The Little BIG Difference

The difference between a good salad and an extra good salad is usually the vinegar.

Vinegar that is simply sour cannot impart flavor. Only vinegar that is flavor itself can give flavor to other foods.

Heinz Vinegars are flavor—flavor that begins with the selection of only the finest ingredients, further developed by long aging in wood which is the only true way to produce vinegar at its best. Good vinegar cannot be hurried.

EXPECT VOTE TODAY ON FARM RELIEF BILLS

Three Reported to House After Fight.

(Chicago Tribune Press Service.)

Washington, D. C., May 20.—(Special.)—Completion of the reading, section by section, of the Haugen corn belt bill and formal offering of the Tinscher farm credit and Curtis-Aswell cooperative commodity marketing bills as substitutes today brought the house to the point where passage of one of three farm relief proposals may be expected tomorrow.

Under the special rule which brought the three bills to the floor when the agriculture committee was unable to choose between them, the first vote will come on the Curtis-Aswell bill, which was offered as a substitute for the Tinscher bill. Few expect the Curtis-Aswell bill to muster anything near a majority and the real test will be the roll call on the Tinscher measure, which, sponsored by Representative Tinscher (Rep., Kas.) is regarded as the administration program.

House in Confusion.

Five days given over to reading the Haugen bill for amendment ended tonight in confusion almost beyond the power of Representative Mages (Rep., Mich.), chairman of the committee of the whole house to control when the Haugenites sought to prevent the submission of the Tinscher and Aswell substitutes by parliamentary objection. Members left their seats and milled about for ten or fifteen minutes before order was restored. Chairman Mages then ruled that the substitutes were offered in proper form.

As it is now before the committee of the whole house, the Haugen bill would create a federal farm board, equipped with a $175,000,000 revolving fund appropriated from the federal treasury to finance its operations through cooperative associations or other farm organizations to stabilize prices and aid in the disposal of crop surpluses.

$75,000,000 for Advances.
The bill allots $75,000,000 for advances by the board for operations in wheat, corn, cattle, swine, and butter, an equal amount for cotton, and $25,000,000 for minor farm products. Only three major amendments, in addition to those sponsored by the Haugenites themselves, were adopted by the committee of the whole house—one of them proposed this afternoon by Representative Madden (Rep., Ill.) to require annual audits of the books and accounts of the farm board by the general accounting office of the government. As submitted to the house, the bill would have allowed the board to select its own auditors in the event the President did not see fit to name them.

Two others offered by Representative Jones (Dem., Tex.), were also adopted—one which will require the imposition of an equalization fee on dressed meats in packing house stocks when an emergency is declared and the fee collected on live cattle.

Another of his amendments which was adopted, would require the farm board to announce the amount of the equalization fee it proposes to collect at least forty days in advance of its declaration of an emergency period and provides that plans for the emergency period must be abandoned unless a majority of the producers of the affected crops, approve the proposal.

Propose Farm Boards.

The Tinscher and Curtis-Aswell bills are similar in principle, the Tinscher bill proposing a farm board also, which, however, would have only $100,000,000 in its revolving fund, to be loaned to bona fide farm cooperative associations on secured notes maturing in from one to thirty-three years. In its present form, the Curtis-Aswell bill proposes national cooperative groups aid for organization as may be necessary from the government. The total amount available for this and under the bill would be $100,000,000.

Lowden, Rested, Renews Drive for Farm Relief

Leaving for St. Louis yesterday, Frank O. Lowden announced that, following a rest on his farm near Oregon, Ill., he again had donned the harness in his work for agricultural relief legislation. From St. Louis he goes today to Wichita, Kas., where, he indicated, a conference of importance will be held.

CHINESE BANDITS SEIZE AMERICAN ARMY CAPTAIN

U. S. Legation Demands
Release of Thos. Betts.

BULLETIN.
PEKING, May 21.—(P)—Capt. Thomas J. Betts, United States army officer attached to the American legation here, has been released by the bandits who made him captive in Yunnan province on May 17.

BY CHARLES DAILEY.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]
PEKING, May 20.—(P)—Capt. Thomas J. Betts of Maryland, coast guard artillery language officer, attached to the American legation, was captured by bandits on Monday in a remote section of Yunnan province while traveling in the direction of Szechwan province. The location was given as Laitowpo, which is fifty-seven miles south of Tungkuan.

The legation has taken energetic steps with the foreign office. Owing to the distance to Yunnanfu, the rescue effort probably will be directed through Szechwan, although the bandits are hostile to the Szechwanese.

Consul Meyers at Yunnanfu reports that the bandits have been exceptionally active in recent months. Capt. Betts' wife and her mother, of Randolph, Va., are in Peking.

In France in 49th.
Washington, D. C., May 20.—(P)—Capt. Betts was born in Baltimore and appointed a second lieutenant of coast artillery in August, 1917. He served overseas during the world war with the 43rd coast artillery regiment.

Loot a Mission.
Washington, D. C., May 20.—(P)—An anti-Christian mob has looted the American Presbyterian mission at Kachek, China.

Consul General Douglas Jenkins at Canton informed the state department today that considerable damage was done to the mission's property when it was forcibly entered May 13. Previous reports to the department said the Americans in the mission had left because of the unfriendly attitude of Chinese.

Agreement on Customs.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

PEKING, May 20.—The foreign delegates to the customs conference have reached an agreement on the application of surtaxes under the Washington conference agreement, which after submission in protocol form to their home government, will be presented to China. It is not likely that the conference will be able to negotiate an interim tariff owing to the absence of a stable government and also owing to the notification that the Canton nationalist government will not recognize any agreement made in Peking.

SO AM I, AL JOLSON TELLS CLUB WHEN IT BARS HIS JEW FRIEND

New York, May 20.—(Special)—Al Jolson announced today that he had resigned as a member of the Westchester-Biltmore Country club because the management had objected to one of his guests, Harry Richman, also an actor. Jolson said the basis of the objection to Richman had been that he was a Jew. As a Jew himself, Jolson said in his resignation. It was accepted, he said.

At the country club, inquiry was referred to the publicity agent of the Biltmore hotel. He said that for the time being the management had no statement to make. Jolson declared that recently he had asked Roy Jackson, vice president of the club, whether he had any objections to Richman's presence at the club. He said Jackson first assured him that no objections existed, but that later he sent a letter saying that he wanted to talk to him. Subsequently Jackson telephoned to him, said the actor, and in answer to his question as to why Richman was objectionable declared the club didn't want any Jews there.

Jolson declared that counts, he added, "has come as a direct result of industrial and economic forces." Political aspects of democracy, he continued, "are merely instituted to secure the economic benefits of democracy."

"Give the farmer electric power at a reasonable cost," Mr. Tripp urged, "and he can relieve himself and his family from a large portion of the burden of labor, reduce his costs, and make his profits more certain."

ELECTRIFICATION SEEN AS AID TO FARM PROSPERITY

Atlantic City, N. J., May 20.—(Special)—Stimulus to overcome the struggle of the farmer with increased costs of commodities, but no corresponding increase in prices, will be found in the electrification of the rural districts by the electrical power industry, Guy E. Tripp of New York, chairman of the board of the Westinghouse Electric and Manufacturing company, told the convention of the National Electric Light association today.

Preceding him was William Allen White, Kansas editor, who said that the demand for electric power in the home and on the farms is "concomitant of democracy," and the man "objecting to democracy of this sort is biting off his nose to spite his reactionary face."

The democracy that counts, he added, "has come as a direct result of industrial and economic forces." Political aspects of democracy, he continued, "are merely instituted to secure the economic benefits of democracy."

"Give the farmer electric power at a reasonable cost," Mr. Tripp urged, "and he can relieve himself and his family from a large portion of the burden of labor, reduce his costs, and make his profits more certain."

BLAINE ORDERS VIGILANTES KEPT IN LEGAL LIMITS

Madison, Wis., May 20.—(Special)—Declaring that the organization of vigilante committees in the various counties is a public confession that organized government has broken down, Gov. John J. Blaine, in a statement today, served official notice that he would hold every sheriff in the state responsible for the acts of all vigilantes in his respective county.

"If there is reason for that sort of organization," said the governor today, "carrying out his recent threat of official action, 'then a Ku Klux Klan or the railroad, or the Anti-Saloon league, or any other interest that desires to substitute its rule through vigilantes might find the same justification for the appointment of deputies.'"

"A body of men, armed as fully as is an army, experience has shown, becomes ruthless and shoots down men according to whim, caprice, inexperience, misjudgment, or even willfulness," the governor said.

"As to preventing bank robberies, it is interesting to note that the record at the penitentiary shows that there have been more bank thieves among bank officers than there have been bank burglars."

TRAIL BANDITS AFTER $20,000 IS SEIZED IN HOLDUP

Police last night were endeavoring to trace five bandits who forced into submission with their revolvers twenty men and five girl employees of Price & Co., gold leaf manufacturers, 1332 West Grand avenue, and escaped with gold leaf and cash valued at $20,000.

A few moments after the place was opened for the day's activities the bandits appeared, parking their automobile in the alley in charge of one member of the gang.

As the employees arrived for work they were huddled into a back room and forced to lie upon the floor. Then I. L. Shaffery, the manager, was forced to open the safe, which was rifled of several hundred packets of gold leaf and a small amount in cash.

PLASTERERS GET WARNING: "END STRIKE IN WEEK"

Contractors Threaten to Hire Men at Old Scale.

Reluctant to hire nonunion men since the strike of journeymen plasterers was called on May 7, officials of the Contracting Plasterers' association yesterday afternoon issued an ultimatum which is tantamount to a declaration of war in the present strike situation.

At the employers' conference it was agreed to give the plasterers' union a week's notice to cancel strike orders, and unless this is done the employers will begin to hire journeymen without discrimination at the old $12 a day scale of wages.

Threaten Damage Suits.

With the walkout now edging toward the third week, many building owners are threatening the employing plasterers with damage suits unless their work is completed on scheduled time. Meanwhile the officials of the Employing Plasterers' association were offering arbitration as a means of settling the walkout. Through William Balhatchet, president, the association has notified the Plasterers' union that it wishes to arrange peace meetings for some time this week or early next week. This action, aver builders, means a compromise offer of $13 a day being advanced instead of the $14 a day scale the men are now striking for.

It will mean also, builders claim, that every building trade in Chicago will get a $1 a day boost if the plasterers are successful in their strike.

Carpenters Start Referendum.

Another important development occurred yesterday when it was learned that union carpenters, 26,500 of them, will begin today to take a referendum vote on the proposal of a large group of builders, with whom they make agreements, to raise the existing $13.75 an hour to $15.00 on Oct. 1.

$5,000 More Is Needed for Lighthouse Fund

Seeking $5,000 to complete the $50,000 building fund for a new Lighthouse, the training school for adult blind, its sponsors are sending out an appeal by letter.

Many leading Chicagoans made up the $45,000 already raised. The institution at 3323 West 22d street is run by the Improvement Association for Blind People. Its directors met yesterday and elected Mrs. Nathan G. Osborne president. The other officers are: First vice president, Mrs. Alfred T. Martin; second vice president, Mrs. Taylor Strawn; corresponding secretary, Mrs. Harold E. Foreman; treasurer, Miss Everett Wyman. The checks are to be sent to Frederick K. Rawson, honorary treasurer.

EMERITUS RULE UPHELD DESPITE NEW PENSION ACT

Teachers and principals retired from the public school last February into emeritus service will not be returned to their former positions, as many had hoped, by the signing of the teachers' pension and retirement bill by Gov. Small according to officials of the board of education yesterday.

School officials hold that the emeritus service rule does not conflict with the new pension law. The bill calls for retirement at the age of 75 with an annuity of $1,500 and a pension of $800. After 1930 the retirement age is reduced to 70 years.

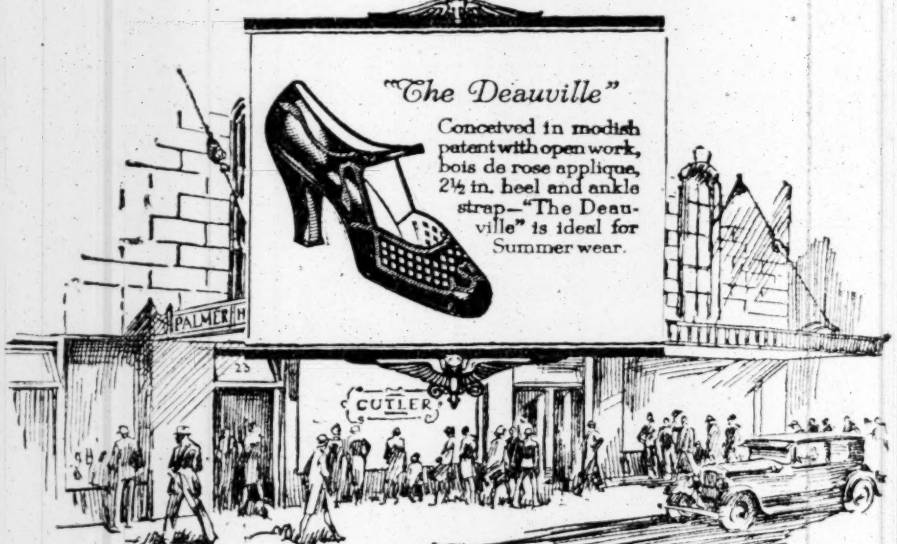

The emeritus rule calls for transfer from active duty, subject to the call of the superintendent, with half pay. As soon as any teacher under the emeritus statute reaches the pension age limit, he will be retired on a pension, officials say.

Woman Killed Crossing Tracks Ahead of Train

(Picture on back page.) Miss Louella Dirsien, 22 years old, 6222 Niagara avenue, was instantly killed yesterday when she was struck by a Chicago and Northwestern train at the Oliphant avenue crossing in Edison Park. Witnesses said that she tried to run across the tracks ahead of the train. Members of the train crew will appear at the inquest today.

SUBSTITUTES FOR PLASTER GAIN AS STRIKE GOES ON

Builders See the Trade Coming Up to Date.

BY ARTHUR EVANS.

One effect of the plasterers' strike, some Chicago builders declare, has been to stimulate the use of substitutes for plaster. Trade experts say the making of walls and ceilings has not kept pace with other phases of the building industry. Where the construction of a building has evolved largely into a matter of assembling units made to measure, a fabricating process, with a blueprint under the worker's thumb, plaster is being supplanted by something superior and more in keeping with modern building technique.

Sales of substitute products are reported growing daily in the last week. Laboratories are working overtime experimenting with improved finishes. For years builders have been saying the old plastered wall will eventually be supplanted by something superior and more in keeping with modern building technique.

Trade 25 Years Behind Times. The plastering trade, they say, is just about where the plumbing profession was twenty or twenty-five years ago in the period of the struggle between modern iron and nickel plated piping and the old lead pipe stuff, with a wiped joint as the superlative of elegance. If the technique and method of a quarter century ago still prevailed, they say, it would take a hundred times more plumbers and steamfitters than there are in the whole middle west to do what work there is in Chicago today.

One view is that the plasterers' walk-out is operating somewhat like the recent anthracite strike, where consumers took most of the sting out of a hard coal shortage by using substitutes such as coke, gas, oil, electricity, and high grade bituminous.

One king in the building industry, for years one of the great powers in Chicago's construction activities, philosophized on it yesterday. His name is withheld to keep from controversy.

Old Method Bound to Go.

"The old plaster wall is bound to go," he said. "It is the last stand of the obsolete. Just think, if the building methods of a quarter of a century ago were still in vogue the present volume of construction activities in Chicago would be simply impossible. It would require twenty times more workers than there are, and the labor cost would be prohibitive. Improved method has made all this possible."

"Look at the advances made in the last twenty or twenty-five years! The marble setters used to do their work on the job, cutting and polishing the stone as they set it. The stonemasons used to chisel the stuff right on the job. Now it's all cut to measure at the quarry and comes to the job all numbered and the artisan looks up its place on the blueprint."

The Same on a Steel Job. "Look at the steel work. Every piece made to measure even before the job starts and laid down neatly numbered. "And the carpenters! Nowadays most carpenters are nothing but hammer and saw men. How many of them can use a miter? Most of the expert craftsmen, the joiners, during the war when building was rated as a non-essential went into other lines. Many of them are now in mills where they have steady monthly jobs and are comparatively free from the hazard of unemployment."

Sashes, doorways, window frames, all come from the factory. The old fashioned carpenter used to make molding and all that, and his tool kit was worth $200 or so. Nowadays, the mill does all that and the carpenter on the job is in great measure an assembly worker.

And Also in Plumbing. "Consider the plumber! Twenty-five years ago was the controversy over lead versus iron. Improved methods won. The plumber of a quarter century ago wouldn't know how to work under a set of modern specifications. Plumbing and heating—all the pipes cut to measure and specification even before the building starts. It's changed the technique. It's given us modern plumbing which is a wonderful thing. And most illuminating of all, it has increased tremendously the demand. Where a bathroom used to be something for a family to brag about, nowadays you'll find flats with two or three of them. Progress in method has made this possible. "If the plasterers are wise, they'll be getting ready for a new method and technique, like other building crafts have in the last twenty years, for all tendencies are towards the assembly process in building."

Woman Hurt in Fall from Flat Recovers; Man Freed

Informed by the police that Mrs. Corinne Jenkins and her husband have returned to their home in Wisconsin, Judge Frank M. Padden yesterday dismissed Emro Cressin, a salesman, who had lowered Mrs. Jenkins from the window of his apartment at 4366 Winthrop avenue, when some one knocked on the door several mornings ago. The judge was told that Mrs. Jenkins, who fell several feet, had recovered from her injuries.

HEARING BRINGS ROBEY BRIDGE NEAR REALITY

Following a hearing in his office yesterday morning, Maj. Rufus W. Putnam, United States district engineer, brought the proposed bridge across the north branch of the Chicago river at Robey street one more step nearer reality.

Overruling the obstructive tactics of William F. Mulvihill, head of the state division of waterways, who has been unprecedentedly active in such matters for several months, Maj. Putnam said he would recommend issuance of a war department permit for the span and estimated that the necessary Washington sanction would be recorded within a month. Engineering plans for the bridge will be completed by the board of local improvements, it was said, within five weeks.

BOOK CONCERN DEDICATION MONDAY. Dedication of the new Methodist Book Concern, housing three of the six headquarters of the Methodist Episcopal church and the world service commission, will take place Monday, with Bishop Edwin Holt Hughes officiating.

A better afternoon's work

You're fresher, fitter—when you relax this way at luncheon

When you've eaten your fill at luncheon, rest back in your chair and order a pot of Japan Green Tea.

Let that busy brain of yours just take it easy for a change. Forget to watch the clock. Forget business. Think only of the tea as you drink it slowly, lingeringly.

Feel its pleasant warmth as it sends its restful influence to every single nerve. Taste with leisurely appraisal its fine full-bodied flavor. Enjoy its steaming fragrance.

All this will take about ten minutes, or even less. But you'll find it as refreshing as an extra hour's sleep. Taut nerves relax. You're fresher, fitter, better prepared for a heavy afternoon's work.

FOR YOUR MONEY

You'll be amazed at how much a dollar can buy if you buy

HANES

ANY way you look at it.

From a comfort standpoint, HANES Athletic Underwear will keep you surprisingly cool, even on the hottest, stickiest kind of day.

Why? Because there's more room in it. It fits loose and easy all around. Plenty of room for the air to get to your skin and keep it dry. We put the right amount of material into our underwear.

Then, take over. HANES wears longer, goes softer to the laundry, because it's made of good quality material and made right. Seams firmly sewed. Buttons really put on to stay.

Now just reading this about HANES Underwear won't keep you cool, neither will it save you any money, nor prevent summer underwear troubles. But if you go to your regular store and ask for HANES, and get it, HANES will do all these things for you—for just a single dollar! If your store does not carry HANES Underwear, don't hesitate to write us. We will see that you are supplied.

HANES comes in round and V-neck styles, in fine checks and fancy madras patterns. For boys too. Sizes 24 to 34 for boys from 6 to 16 years. The famous HANES red label is on every garment. Look for it.

READ THIS GUARANTEE: We guarantee HANES Underwear absolutely—every thread, stitch and button. We guarantee to return your money or give you a new garment if any team breaks.

COLLEGE COMBINATION—Young men everywhere are enthusiastic over the new HANES College Combination—flat-knit, pull-over shirt and pajama bottoms. Unequalled value at 75c the garment.

1 Here's an arm-hole that can't curl or rip—large, roomy and friction-free.

2 Talk about comfort! The HANES closedrotch stays closed. It's set and stitched in a special way to insure comfort.

3 There's double strength, double elasticity in the HANES webbing belt. It's two-thread instead of single. Sewed especially to prevent rips and tears.

4 A wide, full-length knee that won't creep up your leg—won't bind!

5 This button refuses to come off. It's sewed to the seam. Four thicknesses of material instead of the usual two. No patch!

COOLIDGE SIGNS BINGHAM CIVIL AVIATION BILL

Washington, D. C., May 20.—[Special.]—President Coolidge today signed the Bingham civil aviation bill, providing for the regulation and development of air transportation in the United States. Passage of the bill by Congress and its approval by the President was hailed with jubilation by proponents of aviation, both in civil and military circles.

Advocates of civil air transportation asserted it would stimulate the use of the airplane in commerce and make flying profitable and safe, while army officers declared it would strengthen the national defense.

Building up of a big force of pilots large numbers of aircraft and aircraft factories for the construction of airplanes for commercial use would furnish a big reserve force available for war purposes in an emergency, it was asserted.

As the bill was signed today it makes the secretary of commerce responsible for fostering and developing the use of aircraft in commerce.

GRACE BRYANT'S DEATH SUICIDE, INQUEST DECIDES

Champaign, Ill., May 20.—[Special.]—A coroner's jury, investigating the drowning of Miss Grace Bryant, 213 North Grove avenue, Oak Park, a student in the University of Illinois, which occurred in Crystal Lake last night, this afternoon returned a verdict of death by drowning with suicidal intent. The parents of the dead girl arrived here last night and returned to Oak Park with the body this afternoon. Miss Bryant was prominent in campus activities.

CHAMP'S LEAD

Mickey Outpunched in Late Rounds.

BY HARRY NEWMAN.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Scranton, Pa., May 20.—[Special.]— Pete Latzo, an aggressive little fighter as ever
had a pair of boxing gloves laced
on his hands, is
the brand new welter weight champion of the world.

IP

Mickey Walker, the former champion, over ten whirlwind rounds. Latzo outpunched and outgeneraled Walker in the closing rounds and had Mickey hanging on resentfully from stinging punches to the head and body.

Walker got away to an early start and looked like a winner for the first three rounds, but he had nothing left when Latzo took up the running and pounded the Irishman all over the place.

There were times when it seemed Walker must crumple under that never-rain-of-blows from Latzo's gloves in the closing rounds, but Mike stood up under this fierce attack and fought back like the real champion he was.

Latzo Takes Lead in Sixth.

Latzko took a fierce pounding in the early rounds of the fight. He was so hurt when he cut loose he would not be denied. He ripped and tore at Walker, forcing him to break ground under a heavy barrage of punches to the head and body. He took absolute command after the fifth round and refused to let Walker take the play away from him. He shuffled back and forth through Walker's guard, shining lights to the face every time he came to close quarters, and he had Mickey's head bobbing from fierce right hands and uppercuts to the face.

Walker looked weak and pale before the fight. He appeared nervous and paced up and down the ring while the introductions were being made. On the other hand, Latzko was cool. He refused to look at Mickey's corner, but contented himself by glancing around the audience smiling and waving.

For the first three rounds it was Walker, but the two boys did not appear to be warmed up until the fourth.

right to the chin and then pounded the champion savagely in a neutral corner. At the bell Walker was worried and it was apparent that the old champion had a tough job on his hands.

Mickey Kallies in Fifth.

Mickey came back in the fifth round, but it was his last stand. He won that session with a flock of left hooks to Latzo's stomach, but after that he folded and slowly the championship was wrested from him by the sturdy young miner, who never lost confidence in his ability to win.

The final round was a struggle. Walker tried desperately to pick up some lost ground. He waded into Latzo, trying to land a haymaker, but Pete met him half way and there followed some fierce exchanges between the two fighters. They traded rights to the head until it seemed that one or the other must crumple. The sting, however, came from the side. Walker tried to head to yield again to Latzo, who

It was a tough finish for Walker to lose his chance at the first round bout, but he fought back gamely
every step of the way and nevemade a squawk when the decision was made against him.

Walker won the championship from Jack Britton in the old Madison Square Garden in 1922 after fifteen hard fought rounds.

The eighth fight was the second meeting of Mickey and Latzo. They had their first slummy in Newark, three years ago, when Mickey received the decision. Since then, however, Pete has been camping on Mickey's doorstep, and when his chance came for a crack at the title he was positive he would beat his old enemy.

EMBARRASSING MOMENTS

Surprised.
One Sunday my friend had to work and informed me that she would be at the office all alone. Having something important to communicate to her, I called her on the telephone. Some man answered, and remembering she said she would be down there alone, I asked him to please get off the line and told him that I was calling a person and evidently the operator had given me the wrong number.

After signaling the operator, I again called my number and again a man answered. This time I asked the number and certainly was surprised when I found out I had the right number and the man answering the telephone was my friend's boss, who had decided to step in and see how she was getting along with the work.

Even the Lion Roared.
We collected several children in the neighborhood, piled into our small car, and went to see the circus parade. Our position was in a tourist camp just back of the sidewalk and elevated about three feet. When about half of the parade had passed something suddenly went wrong with the auto horn and it began to blow. It blew and blew, in spite of all my husband did, and the crowd turned, looked, and laughed! A little later, ten more too carefully dressed children, a fat woman, and a little whipper-snapper of a man prancing around. At this moment a case of lions was passing and one let out a roar. The crowd went wild, and wished the sun would only obliterate me as it had threatened.

HAROLD TEEN WHY NOT?

A FRIEND IN NEED

BY SALLY JOY BROWN.

Child Wants a Doll Carriage.

"Has any one a doll carriage for little girl has outgrown? My little girl is begging for one for her birthday, but her daddy would not buy one. My boy of 7 needs summer suits and shoes—even overalls will be greatly appreciated. My husband is a doctor. I hope this little child will not be disappointed when her birthday comes round next month. Can you give her a doll carriage? Or have you any clothing for her brother?"

Icebox Is a Necessity.

"Mrs. S. is husband is ill in Cook county hospital with tuberculosis. Mrs. S. is employed each day, but is unable to purchase all the necessities for her self and four young children. The children are badly underweight and in need of nourishing food, which cannot be kept fresh unless the family has an icebox. Can you help her to drive home the need of iceboxes, especially in homes where there are babies. If you are thinking of replacing yours, let me give the old one to Mrs. S."

Arts Club Elects New Directorate

At Annual Meeting

BY NANCY R.

No one could have looked more chic and sprightly than Mrs. John Alden Carpenter as he presided at the annual meeting of the Arts Club held yesterday afternoon in the dining room of the club.

Her small, unornamented hat was of woven red straw and fitted her cropped head as closely as it is possible for a hat to fit. Her frock looked as if it had just come from the Rue de la Paix and was printed with great swirls and modernist figures in reds, greens, black and blues against a lemon yellow background. A large pink carnation was pinned at the throat, just that last touch that so often finishes off a costume.

Among the various reports of the club, the report of the director was presented and passed upon. Four new directors were elected: Mrs. Howard Linn, Mrs. Charles Barney Goodspeed, Russell Taylor, and Frederick Bartlett, who replaced Mrs. Walter Foster, Mrs. Jacob Burr, Mrs. Potter Palmer, and Mrs. McCutcheon, Theodore Robinson, Paul Schulze, Graham Aldis, and Herman Waldeck. There is to be a directors' meeting and luncheon on Thursday next, at which the officers for the coming year will be elected.

It seems that Mrs. N. S. Davis has planned a list of summer sojournings to keep her one of the busiest of the travelers' set. She has left Pasadena for a visit with her daughter, Mrs. Harry Dangler, at Santa Fe. The latter has had a house there since she gave up the New York house in Lake Park in December. Mrs. Davis Adler made her visit in New Mexico not long ago.

Then on June 23 Mrs. Davis plans to go to friends and sail for Europe, to be gone until early autumn.

Day's News in Society

Mrs. Katherine Martin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Lawrence, of Highland Park, has decided on June 4 for her marriage to Robert Roosevelt Shanley, son of the late Mr. Clifford Buchanan of New York City. The wedding is to take place at the Trinity church in Highland Park, the Rev. Peter Wolcott officiating. Miss Jane Martin is to be her sister maid of honor, and Mrs. D. J. Kohlman, the bridegroom's sister, is to be matron of honor. Miss Ruth Janet Martin of Boston, Miss Anna Barbara Coburn of Indianapolis, Miss Josephine H. Saxon and Miss Mary Walden Williams of Highland Park are to be bridesmaids. Clifford Buchanan is to be best man and Owen Parry Jacobsen, George H. Lounsbury Jr., Richardson Revell, William J. Barker, Harold B. Kilduff, Craig G. Forbes and John M. Tuttle Jr. of New York City will usher.

Mrs. Robert Edward Smith of Highland Park has issued cards for a tea at her residence next Wednesday. Articles from the Vocational Society for Shulins are to be on sale. Assisting Mrs. Smith will be Mrs. Robert Forster, Mrs. George O. Smith, Mrs. Chas. Vail, Mrs. Gordon Linschman, Mrs. Arthur Jerrens, Mrs. Eugene Andrews, Mrs. Howard Smith, Mrs. Arthur Jerrens Jr., Mrs. George Stevens, Miss Marion and Miss Emily Smith. Mrs. Caswell Alan Sharpe and Mr. and Mrs. Walter Paepcke have moved out to Lake Forest and have taken two of the summer cottages at Onwentsin.

The Noble Brand, Judith twins have been transported to Lake Forest, where they superintended the job of opening the Judith's summer domicile. Everything is in readiness now, and the twins are waiting their parents' return from Paris on June 1.

Dance Tonight to Open Convention of Sorority

Convention of Sorority

The ninth annual convention of Phi Delta Gamma sorority will be held this weekend at the Palmer house. A dance in the red lacquer room for members and their guests will open the convention this evening. A tea in compliment to the visiting officers will close the affair on Sunday afternoon. Miss Cella Tegtmeyer of 422 West 61st place, Miss Violet Clausen of 7340 North May street, and Miss Doris J. Baker of 1002 North Morgan street, are in charge of arrangements.

NEW YORK SOCIETY

New York, May 20.—[Special.]—Mrs. Nathan Chertoff, Mrs. John Wana, Mr. and Mrs. John Wana, and Mrs. John Wana, among the guests of Mrs. Joseph S. Wana today for luncheon at the Marlborough.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Copley Thaw returned from Europe on the Paris and will be at the Plaza a few weeks before going to Southampton for the summer.

Baron and Baroness Marcus Rosenzweig, who arrived on the Paris and will be at the Plaza a few weeks before going to Southampton for the summer.

WINNIE WINKLE, THE BREADWINNER: Love's Labor Lost

Long Engagements Are Often Something of a Mental Strain

BY DORIS BLAKE.

"I am engaged to a young man with whom I have kept steady company for almost three years. We are to be married some day if we carry out the plans we made a few months ago.

"As the days go by I have been wondering if I am really in love with him. We have always been happy together and up to six months ago I felt I would do anything on earth for him. Then we had a misunderstanding and we drifted apart for a while. When he came back I felt the old love return for him and a tenderness that elicited my promise to marry him.

"He is ambitious and has a good position. He has hosts of friends and a most dependable nature. He fails to be as attentive as I would like him to be. Later, he irritates me so that I have been tempted to tell him I wouldn't marry him. Little things he does get on my nerves. Then, again, I feel as though I could be happy with him, that I'd like to be mother to his children. I know his love for me is genuine. What do you suppose is the matter with me? Do I love him enough to be happy in marriage?"

"I think you do, Worried. I think your irritations may be traced either to a physical nervousness which you could remedy easily enough, or else to that peculiar mental state people are apt to get into when an engagement is prolonged too indefinitely.

"If you are run down in health a bit why don't you take a vacation and pull yourself together? The separation, I feel sure, would quickly decide for you that you never wanted to lose this boy with the dependable nature. I don't believe the thing is often said when long engagements are broken; that it is well the couple parted their unsuitability before marriage—unless, of course, the two people are hopelessly unsuited to each other. But there is something about long courtships and indefinite marriage dates that after a time reacts unfavorably on romance. With marriage, the trifling things that now irritate would be lost in the new interests and the deeper feeling that union brings.

Large Hats Shadow Girlish Faces, So Adieu Boyish Chic!

by Doris Blake

It's nice to see the large hat back again, isn't it? It just goes to prove there isn't an emergency confronting the feminine sex, speaking in terms of fashion and beauty, but even be met gaily. A brief season ago it was predicted the large chapeau would never come back so long as the boy was worn. It couldn't be worn, that was all there was to it.

Large hats are being worn—and charmingly. I love them for two reasons; one, that they are feminine and indicate woman's tiring of the boyish effect that has affronted the eye for too long. For another, they help to unstandardize the outline of every American girl. It got so that almost every woman and girl looked like her sister, her cousin, her mother, her aunt with the cloche, the slim silhouette, the short skirt and the strap pumps. Large hats relieve this sameness. Also they're intriguing in the sense that the longer skirt was. I walked up the avenue one day with a tall slender girl wearing a tailored blue suit and a large, blue, soft brimmed hat. I observed male eyes dwell a moment as we went by.

"I wonder," said my friend, "

School Talent on Air Wins Elmer's Praise

Columbia Broadcast Is Whole Evening Show.

BY ELMER DOUGLASS.

It is fairly safe to say that a vast radio audience closed their sets at 10 o'clock last night completely satisfied musically, if not satiated.

The thing that did the trick was WMAQ's 8:25 to 10 broadcast of the twenty-fifth annual commencement concert of the Columbia School of Music at Orchestra Hall.

Doubtless from the local audience's viewpoint this like others of their kind was a concert by subjects with orchestra accompaniment, but from a radio listener's standpoint, it was an orchestral concert with soloists.

And from either position it was a perfectly arranged program, under the direction of Ludwig Becker, who, judging from the incoming tones, as an interpreter is for pure tone, lovely tone, musical tone, and color, first last and always.

Since the radio audience for this classical concert may be presumed to be a large one, and since nothing else on the dial approached this in interest or quality, a few reflections are in order.

Overture to "Tannhauser"—that masterpiece among overtures, with its stately, solemn choros, plaintive arias, whirling string effects—was heard only once.

Variations symphoniques for piano and orchestra (Franck). William Hughes soloist, a heavy number, and interesting because it was heard many threads of melody used by the composer a few years later in his first and only symphony.

Variations symphoniques for cello (Hindemith). Doubtless interesting because of the cello's timbre, but the soloist, and for the melodiousness and effectiveness of the composition.

Katherine W. White's voice in an aria from "Loulou" (Chapelle), was a bit baffling for its unusual covered quality and persistent use of the vibrato.

Two movements of Mendelssohn's familiar and lovely Concerto E minor for violin. This lacked something of life, but Miss Frieda Kohn, the soloist, lacked nothing in the way of full, round tone of sterling true pitch and of great beauty.

One movement of Tchaikovsky's Concerto on 23 for piano; Mary E. Winslow soloist; slightly heavy, but the piano added its life giving quality of rippling tones to that of the orchestra.

HELEN MENKEN
WEDS; LICENSE IS FOUR YEARS OLD

New York, May 20.—[Special.]—Miss Helen Menken, who starred in "The Seventh Heaven" and many other Broadway successes, was married today to Humphrey Bogart, actor, by the Rev. John H. Kent, deaf mute Episcopal pastor, in a marriage license obtained in the municipal building four years ago.

Miss Menken and Bogart met a little more than four years ago and fell in love at first sight. One and another of the lures and duties of the stage prevented the consummation of their marriage. Their romance continued, and this week Miss Menken, not having a Thursday matinee as her habit, consented to an immediate ceremony. The officiating clergyman is the pastor of the bride's mother, also a deaf mute. Both Miss Menken and Bogart are now starring on Broadway.

GARMENT MAKERS WILL FIGHT SALE OF PRISON GOODS

Efforts to stop the general sale of prison-made clothing will be made at Washington, D. C., by the International Association of Garment Manufacturers, it was announced yesterday when their convention closed at the Hotel Sherman.

Members have agreed to support the Cooper bill to place such clothing under the control of the several states. A campaign against the public purchase of prison-made goods will be undertaken by the association.

Eleven States to Join in T.B. Conference in Chicago

The annual Mississippi Valley conference on tuberculosis, including Illinois and two neighboring states, will be held June 14, 15 and 16 at the Edgewater Beach hotel. The Chicago Tuberculosis Institute has charge of the program, and its superintendent, Mrs. Theodore B. Sachs, is secretary of the conference. Among the speakers will be Dr. Morris Fishbein, editor of the Journal of the American Medical Association, and Dr. Henry H. Williams, managing director of the National Tuberculosis Association.
